Negroes Calm Youth Mob In State Capitol

LANSING (AP)—Yelling "We want Romney," about 100 Negro and white youths protesting the death of Dr. Martin Luther King charged through the State Capitol Friday and were headed off only yards from the executive office.

Two Negro men, a minister and a state representative, stood in a hallway leading to Gov. George Romney's second-floor office and tried to calm the excited demonstrators.

"We want to see the Governor," demanded a Negro youth.

"You saw him once," replied the Rev. Archibald Mosley, pastor of Lansing's Trinity A.M.E. Church. "You must realize that if he doesn't want to see you again, he won't come out."

Sing Freedom Songs

Mosley and Rep. Raymond Hood, D - Detroit, helped turn the crowd around and the youngsters headed down to the first floor. Most of the Negroes left the building, while the white youths gathered in the rotunda and sang freedom songs for about half an hour.

The charge toward Romney's office followed a two-hour session on the capitol steps.

Negro youngsters from nearby schools had converged on the capitol about 1 p.m. They listened intently as one of their members spoke over a portable public address system.

"What are we going to do now? What's left for us?" he asked, then answered: "All that looting that happened in Detroit and other cities—we don't want that to happen here."

"What did it get them? Nothing."

Governor Speaks

Romney joined the crowd, now swollen to more than 150, and immediately was surrounded.

He talked with demonstrators for about 15 minutes, telling one Negro man, "I would rather die with a Bible in my hand..."

"I'd rather die with a gun," the man shouted back.

Just as Romney returned to his office, another 150 young people—most of them white—wound up a nearly three-mile hike from Michigan State University.

Rev. Mr. Mosley, who said he just happened by, addressed the crowd:

"I would like to take my hat off to you, as a black clergyman, for the respect you show a black clergyman. Thou shalt love thy brother. And even though you may feel love is an outmoded virtue you can get more from giving affection..."

He led the group in prayer before several of the young people took turns at the microphone.

F111A Aircraft Are Replaced

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force F111A aircraft arrived at the Takli Royal Thai airbase Friday to replace the two swing-wing craft that were lost last week, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said here.

The spokesman said the two fighter-bombers arrived from the Nellis Air Force base in Nevada. The Takli base is about 150 miles north of Bangkok.

King Funeral In Atlanta Tuesday

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will return for the last time Monday to the small Negro church where he and his father preached the doctrines of human dignity and nonviolence.

King's widow asked that his funeral be held at the Ebenezer Baptist church, which had been a touchstone for her husband throughout his turbulent career.

That career was ended in Memphis, Tenn., Thursday by an assassin's bullet.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. was pastor of Ebenezer when the slain Negro leader was born. It was in this church that the younger King grew up and it was where he returned as co-pastor with his father after his role as a civil rights leader brought him international fame.

Body In State

King's body will lie in state at Spelman College for 48 hours beginning at 4 p.m. today. The body will be taken to the church Monday and the funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The service will be led by Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, retired president of Morehouse College and King's former teacher and friend.

After the funeral, mourners will march several blocks to Morehouse College, King's alma mater, for a memorial service on the school's quadrangle.

King will be buried at South

View Cemetery, alongside his grandparents.

His widow returned to her home Friday after completing the funeral arrangements.

The house was filled with friends, white and Negro, who had been busy answering phones, preparing food and sorting the thousands of telegrams that poured in from throughout the world.

Bunche From U. N.

The messages were representative of all walks of life, from heads of state who knew King as an equal to slum-dwellers who followed him as a messiah.

One, a woman in New York, said, "I am a nobody, but I'm sorry."

Mourners expected for the slain leader's funeral included national figures and foreign dignitaries.

Rep. John C. Conyers, D-Mich., urged members of the U.S. House of Representatives to attend the funeral as "a strong showing of concern... urgently needed at this time of national crisis."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said he would send Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche to represent the world organization.

African delegations at the U.N. said they would send representatives.

Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. announced in New York his plans to be at the service.

In Atlanta, Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. said he expected a number of Negro leaders to begin arriving today.

A spokesman for the King family said Mrs. King felt the funeral and the march to Morehouse College would represent three of the most important elements in her husband's life: his church and faith, his education and the use of the march as a means of nonviolent protest.

When friends remarked on her strength and composure, Mrs. King replied, "I think you rise to the occasion in a crisis. I think the Lord gives you the strength when you need it."

She said the four King children were bearing up well in the tragedy's aftermath.

"There was a time when I wondered if they could accept this if it happened," she said. "At the time they were younger and I don't think they could have. Now I think they can. And they've been wonderful."

Arrangements For Peace Talk Moving Slowly

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report arrangements with North Vietnam for preliminary discussions on peace talks are "moving forward" very slowly but are still on the track.

The State Department officially disclosed Friday night the North Vietnamese have been notified through diplomatic channels that President Johnson has agreed to "establish contact."

The unintended disclosure was forced, officials said, by a report that North Vietnam's Deputy Foreign Minister Hoang Van Loi had said in Algiers the United States had not replied to his government's proposal for preliminary discussions.

"In accordance with the President's statement of April 4," the State Department said, "we immediately proceeded to take steps to establish contact. Apparently the deputy foreign minister is not fully informed."

Johnson announced Sunday a limited bombing halt over North Vietnam and asked for peace talks. Hanoi responded Wednesday morning with a statement it was ready to make contact. Several hours later Johnson announced: "We will establish contact."

That was followed by the official word through diplomatic channels and officials said Friday night they were waiting for President Ho Chi Minh to make the next move.

President Johnson's cancellation Friday of his Hawaii conference with his top Saigon officials did not affect the peace talk prospects in any way, administration officials said.

So it appeared a major purpose of Johnson's abandoned trip to the Pacific could be achieved in Washington.

Khe Sanh Linked To Relief Force

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — from the perimeter. They met

Relief forces landed in Khe Sanh today and some of the allied outpost's defenders already were pushing outward to join the offensive against North Vietnamese troops who besieged them for 76 days.

The enemy siege was officially declared broken Friday after a 20,000-man allied relief column moved within a mile of the base and began fanning out around it.

But the first linkup of relief forces with the 6,400-man Khe Sanh garrison—mostly U.S. Marines—came today when helicopters lifted a company of South Vietnamese paratroopers into the base.

Just before the paratroopers landed, the 400 South Vietnamese rangers who have been holding the Khe Sanh base's southern perimeter charged out and seized enemy trenchlines extending as far as 200 yards

Quick Action Calms Violence In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit, less than nine months ago the scene of the nation's worst recent outbreak of racial violence, was calm today after authorities moved state and local police and National Guardsmen swiftly to quell violence following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, saying, "We think it is better to overreact than underreact," and Gov. George Romney, calling his moves "precautionary steps," quickly committed city police, State Police and National Guard troops to action in Detroit.

Two Shot

Two persons died, both of them 18-year-old Negro youths shot by police at the scene of looting. One of the youths backed into an officer who was searching him, causing the officer's gun to discharge, officials said.

Otherwise, the city remained calm overnight. "It's quieter than normal," a Detroit Police lieutenant said this morning.

Three persons were wounded, all of them shot by police. Three policemen were reported injured by flying objects or splintered glass, none of them seriously.

Although two persons were shot to death, the outbreak bore little resemblance to the riot that eventually claimed 43 lives last July 23-30 and caused millions of dollars in damage.

That riot stirred criticism that Romney, Cavanagh and President Johnson had been indecisive and slow to apply force in the face of building troubles.

No such complaints were heard this time.

Nine months ago, police and National Guardsmen were the targets of charges that they had been imprudent in the use of weapons when they did move against the violence.

This time the firepower was generally silent. Police said the weather also helped, with temperatures near freezing, compared to the mid-80's last July.

Death An Accident

Robert Vaughn, 18, of Detroit, was killed after a looting incident in Highland Park, a city surrounded by Detroit, when he backed into the pistol of an officer searching him, Highland Park Police Chief William Stephens said.

Although two Negro youths were shot to death, the outbreak bore little resemblance to the riot that eventually claimed 43 lives last July 23-30 and caused millions of dollars in damage.

and caused millions of dollars in damage.

Detroit police said a second youth, an 18-year-old Negro, died this morning of a gunshot wound. They said he was shot and another youth wounded by Detroit police during a looting incident shortly after midnight. The youth was not identified.

Three persons were wounded by gunfire, at least two of them by police, in scattered and sporadic looting in Detroit. Three policemen were injured. Incidents of rock - throwing and looting in Detroit ceased shortly after dark, when an 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew, declared first by Cavanagh for Detroit and then by Romney for the entire county, took effect.

Expect Johnson To Make Plea For National Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members of Congress expect President Johnson's special message Monday night to combine a plea for national unity with an urgent call for action on civil rights, housing and other social programs.

Johnson will address a joint session of the Senate and House, a session he requested after the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Congressional leaders agreed a prime recommendation would be for House enactment of the Senate-passed civil rights bill with its strong open-housing section. Johnson already has asked for this action.

There have been signs of growing support for speedy action on the bill in the wake of King's death.

There was substantial agreement Johnson would renew a plea for prompt action on his housing measure, which combines several low-income housing programs with such special provisions as riot insurance for homes and businesses in slum areas.

Johnson was considered certain also to renew his urgings for an income-tax increase. Pending legislation calls for a 10 per cent surcharge.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee, which has jurisdiction over housing legislation, welcomed the expected presidential call for it.

But he added such programs require so much time they would not have much impact on the immediate situation.

Washington And Chicago Hardest Hit By Violence

Racial violence spawned by the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. subsided at dawn today in most cities wracked by disturbances. In the nation's capital new looting was reported after a curfew was lifted.

Nineteen persons have died in racial disorders since King was killed Thursday night, including nine in Chicago, and five in Washington. Parts of both cities were heavily damaged by fire. Two youths died in Detroit and one in Tallahassee, Fla.

Police in Washington had at least a dozen reports of looting within 90 minutes of the lifting Saturday morning of a dark-to-dawn curfew imposed by city officials.

In Pittsburgh, roving bands of Negroes smashed windows and looted stores in several sections before police restored order. A white man driving to work was shot, but he was reported in satisfactory condition. Police said about 90 arrests were made during the night.

and police restored a measure of calm today in Chicago after a night of fire-bombing, shooting and looting. "The situation is under control," said Brig. Gen. Richard T. Dunn, emergency commander of the Guard.

Some windows were smashed in midtown Manhattan as groups of Negro youths moved into the Times Square-theater district area of New York, but the Harlem and Bedford Stuyvesant Negro areas were relatively peaceful after sporadic violence the night before.

Trouble also was reported in Philadelphia, Wichita, Kan., Oakland and Palo Alto, Calif.,

20 Buildings Burned

Chicago was hit by waves of fires, shootings and looting in a predominantly Negro West Side area Friday night and early today. Some 3,000 National Guardsmen shuttled from one trouble spot to the next. At least 20 buildings were burned to the ground.

Federal troops, ordered by President Johnson, guarded the White House and Capitol after aiding police and National Guardsmen to bring a raging Negro outburst under control. Some 350 persons were injured, 2,000 arrested.

Washington, Detroit and Memphis were under curfew. National Guardsmen were also backing up police in Detroit and the greater Boston area. A unit of 500 guardsmen moved into Pine Bluff, Ark., to keep peace after police and Negroes exchanged sporadic gunfire during the night.

To Address Congress

The violence in Washington and other major urban centers led the President to cancel his plans for weekend conferences in Honolulu on Vietnam war problems. Johnson said he will address the Congress Monday night.

The President remained at his White House command post beyond midnight.

The incendiary fires in Washington were reported under control by 11 p.m.

One of the deaths in the nation's capital was that of a 14-year-old boy. The circumstances were uncertain. One report said a policeman's gun went off accidentally as the officer tried to stop several youths looting a store.

A looter was shot and killed by police, a man was found with his throat cut, a man was killed when a wall collapsed and a man died after he was beaten and stabbed early Friday, Washington officials reported, but one of these was said to have been in a holdup and unrelated.

Snipers Kill Negroes

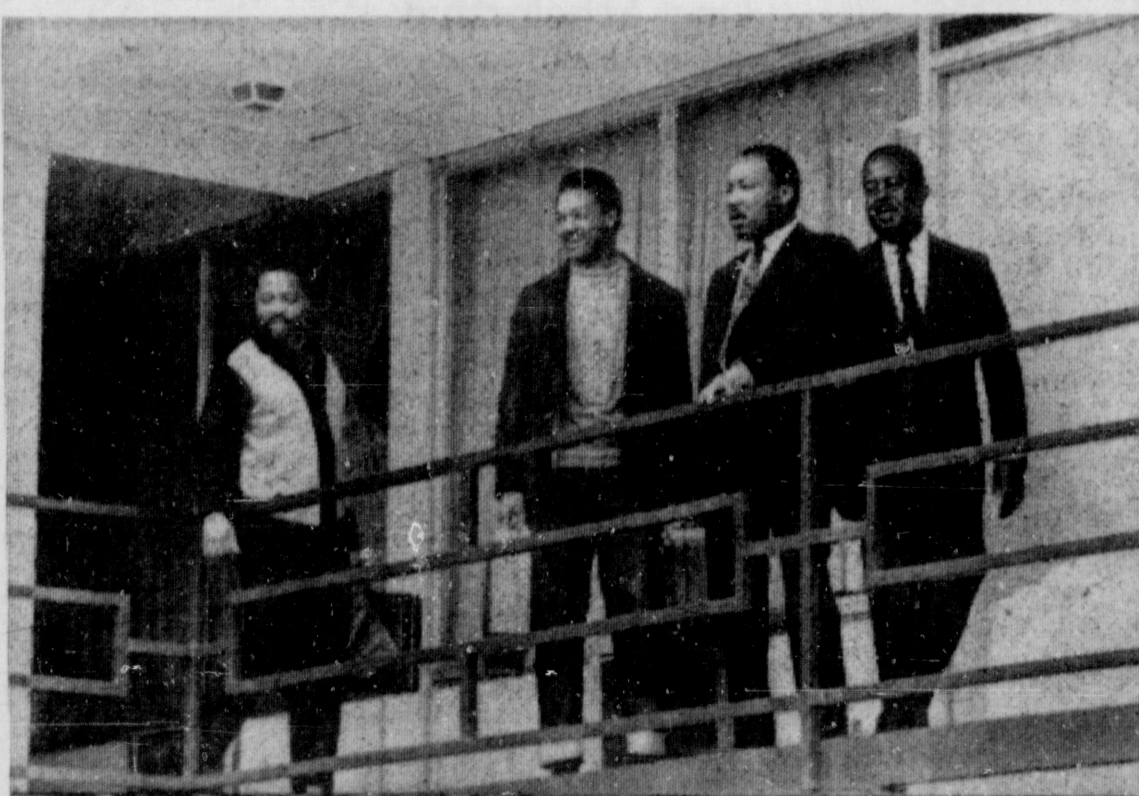

Two Negro men were killed by snipers in Chicago. Another Negro man was shot and killed by police after officers said the man opened fire on them. A fourth man was found dead in a burned out grocery store. Two others were found shot to death, one in an alley, one behind a looted store.

Michigan authorities said an 18-year-old Negro boy, a suspected looter, was accidentally shot to death in Highland Park, which is surrounded by Detroit, when a patrolman's gun went off as police tried to search the youth.

A 19-year-old white youth burned to death in Tallahassee when a store was firebombed.

Detroit police said 218 persons were arrested between 3:30 p.m. and midnight Friday. Three persons were wounded by gunfire while looting, police said. Thirty-five fires were reported, two of them confirmed as arson.

Philadelphia Mayor James H.J. Tate declared a state of emergency as a precautionary measure. The order closed bars and banned the gathering of 12 or more persons and the carrying of weapons. Trouble also was reported in Pittsburgh, Erie and Lancaster.

Four Killed In Auto Accidents

By The Associated Press
Four persons have died in traffic accidents in Michigan over the weekend, including two who lost their lives in a two-car collision in St. Joseph County.

The Associated Press tally of weekend fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends midnight Sunday. The victims:

William Clarence Miel, 13, of Howardsville, and Francis Leland Beach, 25, of rural Burr Oak, killed in a two-car accident Friday night on M 66 in St. Joseph County.

Donald Lee Gunderson, 21, of rural Fowler, the driver of a car that struck a bridge on a rural Clinton County road just after midnight Saturday.

Mrs. Donna Mays, 20, of Grand Rapids, killed Friday night in a two-car accident in Grand Rapids.

C&NW Promotes Russell, Wolfe

The election of Robert W. Russell, 45, general solicitor of the Chicago and North Western Railway Co., as vice president-personnel of the railroad was announced today.

A native of Chicago, Russell came to the North Western 20 years ago and since that time has served in various capacities in the railway's law department.

James R. Wolfe, general counsel for the National Railway Labor Conference, has been elected vice president-labor relations of the Chicago and North Western effective June 1.

In his new position, Wolfe, 38, will succeed T. M. Van Patten who is retiring under the company's pension plan after 41 years of service to the railroad.

Ruppe Addresses U.P. Foresters

Wood Industries Rated Bright Hope

By JEAN WORTH

IRON MOUNTAIN — Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) told the spring meeting of the Upper Peninsula Chapter, Society of American Foresters meeting over 100 strong at Pine Mountain Lodge Friday that industrial development of the Upper Peninsula is a better way to solve its economic problems than government aid.

At point was Ruppe's bill in Congress to make the federal government pay a flat fee of 25 cents an acre a year to local governments in which its forests are located. At present the Forest Service pays local governments 25 per cent of the income from wood sales and makes other contributions to the local economy "in kind," like building roads, fire protection, creation of recreational facilities, etc.

Federal Forests
Al Trout, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest, presided at the panel discussion in which Ruppe participated. There are now 1.7 million acres of U.S. Forest Service lands in the Upper Peninsula, of which 1.5 million were acquired in the 1930s and 1940s, said Trout. There has been only "modest" acquisition recently, he said. When the Ottawa and Hiawatha Forests were formed it was largely from unwanted remnants of the private ownership effort. Most purchases were of cutover woodlands or abandoned farmlands.

Federal forest contributions to the local economy in shared wood sale funds and contributions in kind, said Trout were equal to or exceeded comparable private land contributions. The 40 cents an acre benefit in 1962 was 77 per cent greater than the 1952 figure.

Income Growing
"It can be expected to increase as the harvest becomes higher quality and as the surplus is sold," said Trout. "Growth is at the rate of 1 cord of pulpwood an acre a year and it is increasing. We support the re-evaluation of sharing of forest income locally. It has been brought up at every meeting of the Public Land Law Review Commission and we expect to see in its 1970 report recommendations for changes in the sharing formula."

Congressman Ruppe said that he was no critic of the Forest Service, that it had done a very good job of forest development for wood production and also for recreation. But present wood sale sharing is only averaging 8 or 9 cents an acre in the Upper Peninsula. "If we could put a floor of 25 cents an acre until the federal forests come into ma-

4 State Men Killed In War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Michigan men are among 30 U.S. servicemen listed by the Pentagon Friday as killed in action in Vietnam.

They are: Army Pfc. James B. Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brock of Dearborn; Navy Builder 3C John R. Peek, husband of Mrs. Linda F. Peek of Pontiac; and Marine Pfc. Thomas P. Pruiett Jr., son of Mrs. Regina N. Titus of Coloma.

In addition, the parents of Army Cpl. John C. Rooney of Vandercreek Lake said they had been notified by the Defense Department that Rooney died Wednesday of wounds suffered March 28. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Rooney of Vandercreek Lake.

Joseph Rodman In Honor Society

Joseph G. Rodman, son of Mrs. Lucille Rodman, 1109 3rd Ave. S., has accepted an invitation to join the Michigan State University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. Organized in 1927, the chapter annually elects fewer than five per cent of the students in its Junior and Senior classes and a small number of graduate students and faculty members.

Rodman, a 1964 graduate of Holy Name High School is a senior in personnel and human relations. He is also a member of Beta Gamma Sigma Honor Society, the highest award the College of Business can bestow upon an undergraduate student.

turity it would ease the pressure for funding of local government," he said.

Ruppe said government views the future of the Northern Great Lakes States wood industry as potentially very bright. U.P. pulping of U.P. wood is expected to grow from 32 per cent to 80 per cent in the 1962-70 period.

Need For Jobs
Woodland industry, he said, needs a safety program. Its workmen compensation insurance costs are triple those of Wisconsin.

"The need of the area is to create jobs," said Ruppe. "I don't think any effort to improve the situation in the big cities will be successful until we end the flow of population to the cities. We must revitalize rural America. We must bring wood industry to our area. The example of Mead Corp. in creating a huge paper mill in Escanaba is heartening. The potential is enormous."

"The building of the Great Lakes Gas Transmission Co. pipeline will also help the economy. I think we should be cautious with local government efforts to attract industry by tax concessions or pollution concessions, it only weakens a tax base already overburdened. Let the federal government give the tax concessions; it can afford them."

Tax Free Bonds
"I hope the Treasury will approve tax free industrial bonding. If they won't do it across the board it would be helpful to our area if they could put it in the Economic Development Administration program or the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission. There is opportunity for wood industry to be the nucleus for an economic resurgence of the whole Northern Great Lakes area."

The foresters elected Dr. Gene Hesterberg, head of the forestry department at Michigan Technological University, Houghton as chairman to succeed Ernest George of Kimberly Clark Corp., Norway. Carl Tubbs, project leader of the Northern Hardwoods Laboratory of the U.S. Forest Service, Marquette, was elected vice chairman and John Gaffney, of Mass. secretary-treasurer.

The chapter discussed the mineral industry land condemnation bill proposed by Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negawnee) and recommended more study of the issue of mineral industry need for expropriation of lands for mine waste disposal before passage of the bill. More safeguards were suggested by some speakers and foresters were asked to contact their legislators individually on the issue.

Grant

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University has received a $107,100 grant from the U. S. Office of Education for continuation of its college work-study program during the 1968-69 academic year. The program, inaugurated at Northern in 1965, will enable 350 students to earn while continuing their college education.

Strict Driver Safety Urged

In Michigan you can kill a person with your automobile and suffer no loss of your driving privileges unless convicted.

You can have a whole string of accidents and likewise maintain your driving rights—unless convictions push your point total to 12 or more. Then the Secretary of State can demand a driver re-examination.

This is the problem of the accident-prone driver, which Secretary of State James M. Hare has termed one of the biggest loopholes in the state's traffic laws.

Hare seeks to plug the loophole through an amendment prepared for submission to the current legislature.

Under the proposed amendment, a driver could face suspension or revocation of his operator's license if:

1—He has in one or more instances been involved in an accident resulting in the death of a person.

2—He has within a two-year period been involved in three accidents resulting in damage in excess of $200 and the subsequent police report indicates moving violations.

Twenty-eight states have laws providing for suspending or revoking driver licenses for accidents resulting in death, injury, or substantial property damage.

Some states have made accidents as well as a specified point total a basis for taking away driving rights.

Curiously, Michigan had a more stringent law governing the accident-prone driver before the point system went into effect in 1958.

Then the law provided that the Department could suspend or revoke a driver's license if there was reason to believe that driver was incompetent, had disqualifying physical or mental disabilities, was habitually reckless or negligent, or had in one or more instances "driven a motor vehicle in a reckless or negligent manner and had thereby caused death or injury to any person or serious damage to property."

When the point system was adopted, the law retained the provisions as to incompetency and disabilities, but eliminated the reckless and negligent provisions and the death-injury-damage clause.

House Approves Wiretapping Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill allowing law officers to tap telephones and use other means of electronic surveillance under certain conditions was passed by the House Friday and sent to the Senate.

Approved also were two tenants' rights bills, a measure allowing policemen to issue tickets for minor ordinance violations, a $34 million spending bill and a memorial resolution for Dr. Martin Luther King.

The House, which Thursday night adjourned its session after learning of King's death, Friday praised the Nobel Prize winner as "one of America's great leaders, the man of peace and the apostle of nonviolence."

The Senate passed a resolution, sponsored by Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, calling for a period of mourning for the slain civil rights leader. Gov. George Romney, meanwhile, declared an official period of mourning through Dr. King's funeral and asked that all flags on public buildings be flown at half-staff.

The Senate approved a bill allowing school districts to set up school psychological services, but turned down another which would have altered state payment of tuition grants to resident students enrolled in private, nonprofit institutions of higher education.

The wiretap bill, introduced by Rep. Hal Ziegler, R-Jackson, and passed 63-22, would permit use of eavesdrop evidence in court if it were obtained under a warrant issued by a Circuit Court judge or Appeals Court judge.

Ziegler said the procedure outlined in the bill could be followed constitutionally because of a 1967 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

An eavesdropping warrant could be obtained by a prosecutor or the state attorney general if he convinced a judge that a crime had been or would be committed, and that conventional means of getting evidence had failed or would likely fail.

Chevy II Set For New Mark

YPSILANTI (AP) — Production of 1968 Chevy IIs at General Motors Corp.'s Chevrolet plant at nearby Willow Run today was expected to surpass the total number of the models made during 1967.

The entire production of Chevy IIs takes place at the plant.

Chevrolet Division General Manager E. M. Estes said Chevy II sales are up 43 per cent in 1968 over the same period last year, which is the best improved sales record in the small car field.

U.S. 2 Group Meeting April 18

There will be a meeting of the Michigan U. S. 2 Improvement Council at the Terrace on Thursday, April 18 at 2 p. m., CST, to hear reports of the chairman of the steering committees of the several counties covering the suggestions to the council on improvement of U. S. 2 in their areas.

The council will review the proposals and decide on the course of action to be taken. Resolutions previously passed by some of the county boards will also be presented for discussion by council members.

Each county will be officially represented at the meeting by four persons including the county U. S. 2 Improvement Council chairman.

The meeting will be open to all persons interested in assisting in U. S. 2 improvement, says William A. Asselin of Norway, council chairman.

What This Nation Needs: A Smokeless Generation

By MARY KNOLL

"Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health," reads the warning on each of the millions of packages of cigarettes sold daily in the United States.

Despite this warning, the number of people who smoke continues to rise daily at an alarming rate, and the majority of these new smokers are teen-agers, most of them between the ages of 12 and 18.

It is estimated that approximately 4,500 boys and girls light their first cigarette every day. This adds up to a total of a million and a half new young smokers annually.

Half Are Smokers

Junior high school is the bridge between childhood and the envied teen years. It is the time for the first lipstick, first cup of coffee, and first cigarette; most youngsters give smoking a try while in junior high school. A few even begin as early as 10 years of age. Boys used to be the first to start smoking, but now girls start as early as boys. By the time they graduate from high school, half the nation's teen-agers are smokers!

Statistics show and prove many interesting and alarming facts about the smoking habit, many of which pertain mainly to those smokers who start at an early age, specifically before the age of 20.

This smoker is the one who smokes more cigarettes for more years, and who inhales more deeply. He is the smoker most likely to be disabled or killed by cigarettes.

Some "Reason" For

So the teen-age smoker is the one most likely to become the steady, fairly heavy smoker during his 20's, 30's and 40's. And this steady, heavy smoker is the one who faces the greatest health risks. Young people who begin to smoke in their early and middle teens may show irritating symptoms in their 20's, and may develop disabling diseases by the time they reach their middle 30's.

Some reasons most often given by youngsters and teen-agers for their smoking are:

"To feel sophisticated."

To the young girl, a cigarette is a symbol of glamorous womanhood and a way to attract the opposite sex. The young man, however, may be attracted by the smoke, the taste, the smell of the tobacco, or both.

boy longing for manhood looks up to smoking as the mark of the suave man of the world.

• "Because I enjoy smoking." It is true that some smokers find pleasure in the taste of the cigarette, or in the smell of the tobacco, or both.

• "Because I wasn't supposed to." A feeling of rebellion is all a part of growing up, and smoking among teen-agers is one of their most popular ways of expressing their rebellion.

• "Because I was curious about it."

• "Because I was tense and nervous." The nicotine in a cigarette may temporarily calm the smoker down, but it may also temporarily pep him up; there is no proof that the cigarette itself has a relaxing effect. Psychologists say that it is the "habit" aspect of smoking that may give a feeling of relaxation—the familiar routine of lighting the cigarette, holding it, puffing on it.

• "Because the rest of my crowd smokes." . . . "It makes me look big." . . . "to be a big shot." . . . These three statements are the most commonly heard in reference to teen-age smoking. Young people don't put smoking in the same class as ice cream sodas. Instead, cigarettes seem to be a symbol that proves something — that the smoker is one of the crowd, a big shot, more sophisticated.

This desire to be "in" has led to a growing nationwide crisis: one out of three high school students are smokers, and half of the nation's teen-agers are regular smokers by the age of 18, according to a recent bulletin on teen-agers and smoking published by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

And Those Against Nonsmoking and smoking teen-agers alike can present reasons and statements against smoking. Most prevalent among these are:

• The great danger involved. As previously mentioned, cigarette smoking has been proved to be a health hazard. Chronic bronchitis, emphysema, and lung cancer all have been proved to be related to cigarette smoking; an average cigarette smoker has nine to ten-fold risk of developing lung cancer; if trends continue, one million now young people will die before they reach the age of seventy; ten times as many smokers than nonsmokers die early; the death rate is about 70 per cent higher than that for non-smokers, and 100 per cent higher among men who began smoking when they were teen-agers!

• "It's a 'dirty' habit."

• "It interferes with athletic activities."

• "It just isn't enjoyable."

• "It's an expensive habit."

Work is being done nationally and locally to stop the spread of smoking among teen-agers by the National Parent Teacher Association, the American Cancer Society, and local Health Departments. The people connected with these organizations recognize the danger involved and the need for action. As the National PTA says, it's time to push the action button against teen-age smoking—one of the deadliest known threats to our children's future health and long life.

Theirs must be the new, smokeless generation!

Oldsmobile calls In 28,638 Cars

LANSING (AP) — General Motors Corp.'s Oldsmobile Division announced Friday it is recalling 28,639 of its 1968 model 88s and 98s because of possible misalignment of the automatic transmission downshift switch actuating rod.

Oldsmobile said that should the rod be misaligned and should the driver snap the accelerator pedal to the floor abnormally hard to downshift, the throttle might be held in a partially open position. This could make it difficult to control the car, Oldsmobile said.

Trout Planting Set For Lakes

The United States and Canada will plant 3,327,000 yearling lake trout in Lake Superior this spring — an all-time record planting total.

Robert Saalfeld, Ann Arbor, executive secretary of the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, said the United States will contribute 2,827,000 to that total, compared with 500,000 supplied by Canada.

On Lake Michigan, 1,800,000 lake trout will be planted. Since the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fishing began its program of restocking the Great Lakes with lake trout, 19,100,000 have been planted in Lake Superior (beginning in 1958) and 5,405,000 in Lake Michigan (beginning in 1965).

(No plantings have yet been undertaken in Lake Huron, where the sea lamprey eradication program is not sufficiently advanced to warrant stocking.)

U.S. plantings represent trout that have been reared in the federal hatchery at Pendills Creek in Chippewa County or the Sullivan Creek rearing station or from the new federal hatchery at downtown Joran River.

Saalfeld said Lake Superior plantings have increased almost every year since 1958, when only 987,000 lake trout were released. Lake Michigan plantings have grown from 1,264,000 in 1965 to last year's high of 2,424,400.

Saalfeld emphasized that the planting figures are proposed totals and that there may be some minor changes in the actual numbers at planting time.

The totals are based on recommendations made by the Lake Superior Committee and the Lake Michigan Committee of the Great Lakes Fishery Commission.

In explaining the reason for the comparatively large total of lake trout planted in Lake Superior waters off the Upper Peninsula shore, Saalfeld said this marks the third year of high intensity plantings in these waters in an attempt to learn whether this will greatly increase reproduction rates. Since 1965, he said, plantings in Upper Michigan waters of Lake Superior have been about twice as heavy as in prior years.

Course Initiated In Labor Studies

DETROIT (AP) — Courses leading to an associate degree in labor studies have been initiated at three community and junior colleges in the Detroit area. First classes in the program will begin this fall at Schoolcraft College and Highland Park College in Wayne County and Macomb County Community College. Announcement of the courses was made by the heads of the schools and Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers Union president.

Stuck Cement Carrier Freed

ALPENA (AP) — The cement carrier J. A. W. Iglehart, stuck since Tuesday in a private channel near the Thunder Bay area of Lake Huron, was freed Friday.

The 501-foot craft then resumed its trip to Detroit. Part of its load already had been taken off and transferred to another ship, permitting the Iglehart to get free.

Lecturer Notes Role Of Science In Christianity

Deep in everyone's heart there is a desire for spiritual enlightenment, Gordon F. Campbell, C.S.B., told a audience here Thursday night.

Despite the prevalent fascination with material things, the world is hungering for the lasting peace and satisfaction that is gained through spiritual growth and progress, Mr. Campbell said.

A Christian Science teacher and practitioner from Santa Monica, Calif., he is on nationwide tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

He spoke under the auspices of the Christian Science Society at 325 S. 13th St., on the subject "Christian Science: Religion for a Scientific Age." He was introduced by Mrs. Carl Ahlin. "Natural science is capable," the lecturer said, "of contributing much to the task of freeing mankind from ignorance, privation, and apathy. But its ultimate success requires the acknowledgment of a higher law than the supposed laws of physics, biology and psychology."

Commenting on the use of the word science as applied to Christianity, he said that it means that Christianity is provable and operates as law. The promises of the Master, he added, were founded on scientific, spiritual law and apply to all ages including this one.

To prove the effectiveness of this law in daily experience it is important to gain a clearer understanding of prayer, prayer based on the true nature of God and man, the lecturer maintained.

"If we were to attempt to state very briefly what constitutes Christian, scientific prayer, we might say that it is the practical acknowledgment of the Christ, the goodness, ever-presence, and all-power of God," he stated.

Such prayer, he continued, is "a practical acknowledgment of the spiritual, scientific fact of God and His reflection, man — of divine principle governing his idea through spiritual laws. The proof that it is scientific is that it brings results, even as it did in Jesus' time."

In closing he emphasized that divine Love brings freedom from bondage to fear, lack and strife.

"The love we express daily in thought and deed," he said, "will meet our need, whatever it be and will help to lead all mankind into the joyful acknowledgment of God's universal law of good."

Milk Producers Act On Pesticides

The Michigan Milk Producers Association favors keeping control of agricultural pesticides in the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The action came at the MMPA annual delegate meeting, when 400 representatives of the 7,900 members of the state's largest dairy farmer cooperative adopted policy guidelines for the future.

Besides the position on pesticides, MMPA delegates endorsed a proposed new advertising program to be paid for through a mandatory contribution by all Michigan dairy farmers, and strongly backed adequate state financing of research on cattle problems.

In other actions the delegates: Called for a prohibition on use of the word "milk" in advertising except in connection with genuine milk and dairy products.

Urged that only property owners be allowed to vote on millage questions, and called for assessments on farm land to be made on a use value basis.

Varnum Bill To Aid Law Officers

State Rep. Charles H. Varnum (D-107th) has announced passage of a bill in the House which expands the State Law Enforcement Officers' Training Act to include supervisory personnel.

The bill allows sheriffs, police chiefs, police commissioners and other supervisors to participate in the programs of the Law Enforcement Officers Training Council.

"This bill, expanding the act, follows one of the foremost recommendations of the Michigan Crime Commission. My major concern in introducing the bill, was that the original act, passed in 1965, was inadequate because of the exclusion of command officers. I feel that a continuing program of training for supervisory personnel in our law enforcement agencies of extreme importance."

The bill was passed by an overwhelming vote of 88-4, and now goes to the Senate for action. Representative Varnum said he expects no serious opposition in the Senate and hopes the bill can be passed in the near future and then be signed into law by Governor Romney.

Discounting Dollars

It would be an error for Americans to think that the gold crisis is a foreign thing. We're the cause of it and we're going to have to live with any failure to solve it. The gold rush was in Europe but the dollar that caused it is Made-In-America.

Byron W. Reeve, head of Lake Shore, Inc., of Iron Mountain and Marquette, which makes machinery for the gold mines in South Africa, was there when the gold crisis was at its peak. Dollars weren't acceptable in exchange. What a come-down for American pride! The South Africans were talking about gold going to $45 an ounce.

But the South Africans and others who mine gold may not find a bonanza in the world's efforts to stabilize monetary exchange. The trend is away from a currency anchored on gold, a step which goes back to William Jennings Bryan and earlier.

One of its most forceful exponents was Great Britain's John Maynard Keynes at the Bretton Woods, N. H., world monetary conference of 45 nations in 1944.

The Bretton Woods conference stuck with gold as the base of international money exchange, while Keynes, who has so strongly influenced modern government management of national economies and money systems, urged the creation of a new international money to replace gold.

Bretton Woods did create the International Monetary Fund which now has 107 nations as members. Representatives of nine of the 10 top financial powers among the non-communist nations met a week ago in Stockholm on the money crisis and took one more step toward the eventual demonetization of gold.

Keynes argued back in 1944 that reliance on gold would eventually lead to exhaustion of reserves and impairment of capital flow and result in restrictions on world trade. The United States didn't accept this reasoning at that time. It held 57 per cent of the world's monetary gold then and it thought that the creation of the International Monetary Fund would be a solution.

The Monetary Fund nations at Stockholm proposed the creation of paper gold, or Special Drawing Rights (SDRs), which will be administered by the IMF. These SDRs consist solely of entries in IMF's books, in the proportion to which each nation has made IMF contributions, but they will become a permanent addition to the money reserves of IMF countries.

The SDRs will be used to settle accounts between nations. The growth of world trade and exchange between nations call for growing reserves. Most money experts believe that without some such device as the SDRs that world trade would falter because of lack of an exchange system.

A monetary system backed by gold is sound because of the intrinsic value of the metal, but it is not in supply sufficient for the world's credit needs and newly mined gold is going into industrial usage and into hoarding.

World trade has for years been based on the United States dollar. While there was world confidence in the value of the dollar it flowed freely as a currency for exchange, but there has been growing mistrust of the dollar abroad because of America's huge spending abroad, because it has not for years achieved a balance of payments (spending more dollars abroad than it gets back in exchange) and refusing to balance the national budget at home. (This last process adds to the national debt and the United States already spends more than 10 per cent of the federal income just to pay the interest on the debt.)

This sort of heavy spending and not paying the government's bills does not create confidence in the soundness of the dollar and foreign demands were made for redemption of dollars in gold. The process has drained the once huge U. S. gold reserves down to an amount insufficient to redeem our money abroad if it all had to be paid off at once.

The "go-back-to-gold" solution smacks of the piggy-bank. We're pretty late in the game to try for a currency founded upon bullion instead of our economic resources, but the threat to the dollar is real and it is serious. Our government should balance the budget and balance the payments not only because the soundness and acceptability of the dollar is very important to us in world exchange, but because it represents the soundness of America here at home. Much of the foreign distrust of our currency isn't just gold mongering, but an economic judgment that our money's shaky because our government is becoming fiscally irresponsible. It won't do the things that should be done because they're politically unpopular.

Already this situation has hurt Americans and there's more coming up. Interest rates are rising and money is getting tight at any price. Taxes are going to rise. Austerity is being forced upon a nation which President Johnson says has never had it so good.

Panama Court Rules Robles Ouster Illegal

PANAMA (AP) — In an 8-1 decision, Panama's Supreme Court ruled Friday that the National Assembly's impeachment of President Marco A. Robles was illegal.

The opposition-dominated assembly convicted and dismissed Robles March 24 and then swore in Vice President Max Delvalle as chief of state. However, the country's 4,000-man National Guard backed Robles and kept Delvalle from assuming office pending the decision by the court, which took up the question Monday.

The guard's blockade of the assembly hall goaded opposition militants into brief but explosive disorders. However, their efforts to whip up a general strike and civic resistance were met by public apathy.

There was no immediate reaction to the court's ruling, which was read to newsmen at 1 a.m. The assembly had convicted Robles of violating the constitutional ban on presidential political activity by promoting his former finance minister, David Samudio, to win the presidency in the elections May 12. Former President Arnulfo Arias is the favorite and the opposition candidate.

A nephew of Arias, 52-year-old Harmodio Arias Jr., publisher of a pro-opposition newspaper, said today that after he was thrown in jail by the National Guard 10 days ago he was beaten with rubber truncheons. The opposition claims 200 persons are still political prisoners.

On Thursday leading members of the opposition said that some assembly members anticipated an adverse decision by the court and were willing to give Robles another try. Others, however, were said to be planning to challenge the high court's power to intervene in the case.

Returned Land

The states of Maryland and Virginia each contributed territory for the federal district. Since all the government buildings were built on the Maryland side of the Potomac, Virginia asked that the tract of land it had donated to the district be returned. This was done in 1846.

"I Hate You and You and You and You---!"

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The economic news out of Latin America is not cheerful. But there is one spot with a very bright potential—the new steel-aluminum-power complex on the banks of the Orinoco river in Venezuela.

The bad news is much more sweeping than the usual gloom stuff about slow going on economic reforms sought in Latin lands as an accompaniment to the Alliance for Progress.

The real story is that Latin America is losing its world position as an exporter. Having lived for decades off its sales of raw materials and basic commodities to the United States, Europe and elsewhere, it finds itself not sharing in the great export boom of the late 1960s.

The highly industrialized nations of the world, trafficking in manufactured goods, are gaining the most. Even the developing lands of Africa and Asia are boosting exports more than Latin countries.

In 1956, some 31 per cent of all U. S. imports came from Latin America. By 1966, the last year for which complete figures are available, Latin nations' share of the U. S. import market had declined to 15.8 per cent and was still dropping. Meat, wheat, coffee, copper and tin, prime Latin exports, just are not cutting as big a swath in trade totals. Unsatisfactory price levels contribute to the problem.

Venezuela's "bright spot" at Ciudad Guayana (not to be confused with the tiny neighboring land of Guayana) is an ambitious undertaking aimed at thrusting this progressive democratic nation into the rising new trade in manufactured goods.

With ample resources in oil, hydro-electric power, iron ore, bauxite (aluminum), and other materials, Guayana is becoming the focus of the Latin world's first genuine industrial "Ruh".

A huge $400 million steel mill has been operating in some measure since 1963. Bids for a $150 million expansion are under review. Even now it exports steel products to Mexico, Colombia, Argentina, Italy and Japan. With some further planned diversification, the hope is to tap still more world markets.

U. S. Steel soon starts building a $50-million plant for making high-concentrate iron briquettes intended almost wholly for export.

In late 1967 a new aluminum smelter opened at Guayana. Here again, hopes are high for a major export industry.

Sometime in 1968, construction will be finished on the first phase of Guri dam complex, a potential 6-million-kilowatt element in the region's hydroelectric program.

The glittering goal is obvious—a great cluster of finished-goods industries founded on Guayana's growing power and metal-producing capacity, with the end products going into the trade stream toward other Latin countries and beyond.

Amid the dark news, Guayana's real promise is a straw to cling to as the economic planners try to figure how to "save" a Latin America slipping downhill even as its population soars incredibly.

But even if Ciudad Guayana proves ultimately to be a great success, very hard questions will remain:

Can this hopeful example be widely copied in other troubled Latin nations? Do they have the resources, the power, the transportation and the means of drawing all these together?

And, if at least some lands have these things, how will they all gain and hold a good place in the world "trade sun" when competition around the globe intensifies almost daily?

Auto Production Slips For Week

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. automobile production this week will be down for the first time since the week of March 4-9, but still will top the corresponding week of 1967 by more than 22,000.

Automotive News estimates U. S. plants will build 187,658 cars this week, against 191,608 last week and 165,132 in the similar year-ago week.

In the week of March 4-9, domestic production totaled 181,181 cars.

Output for the calendar year to date, according to Automotive News' estimates will go to 2,508,173 by Friday night, compared with 2,039,502 in the same 1967 span.

Thieu Insists On Peace Role

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu has warned the United States that he may repudiate any political agreement on Vietnam in which Saigon has no say, diplomatic sources reported.

Thieu summoned the envoys of the allied governments to the presidential palace Thursday to express his misgivings over the coming U. S. contacts with Hanoi.

Authoritative informants said Thieu told the diplomats that the United States has no right to discuss any political questions concerning Vietnam in its direct talks with Hanoi.

Thieu also re-emphasized the position of the Saigon government—that there can be no coalition government including the Communists in South Vietnam.

Saigon will not accept a separate Viet Cong delegation at any forthcoming peace conference, and Saigon will not accept peace terms which include the neutralization of South Vietnam.

Senate Approves $5 Million Lake Alewife Cleanup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a bill authorizing $5 million as the federal share of a program to deal with fish problems, particularly alewives, in the Great Lakes.

A massive die-off of alewives last summer left Lake Michigan beaches covered with the dead fish and the Interior Department has said the same thing could happen this year.

The bill, passed by a voice vote and sent to the House, would authorize the department to cooperate with Great Lakes states in programs of research and control designed to "seek return of the ecological balance of marine life" in the lakes.

Participating states would pay half the cost.

Cannot Perspire

The dog cannot perspire as human beings do. When it becomes warm in summer, it sticks out its tongue and pants, cooling off its body by the extra air it breathes in this way.

South looked over dummy unenthusiastically. He could count 12 top tricks and needed a club-diamond squeeze for his 13th.

He drew three rounds of trumps as a matter of course and noted that if West were long in the minors there would be a rather simple squeeze against him, but the bidding indicated that East, not West, was going to hold the minor suits right behind dummy.

He noted next that he could handle five clubs and four diamonds in the East hand by cashing the ace and king of diamonds, getting back to his own hand with a second heart and running his last three trumps. His last little diamond and North's last little club would squeeze East.

South tried this play, but West defeated him by hanging on to his three clubs so that the nine spot stopped that suit and enabled East to guard the diamonds.

North was rather critical. He said, "If you want to gamble on seven you should learn how to play the hand first. The proper squeeze technique would have made your contract for you."

North was right. See if you can figure out the winning play before going on.

The winning play is a criss-cross ruffing squeeze, if you want to give it a name. South cashes his last high heart and all but one trump while discarding the two small diamonds from dummy. Everyone is down to six cards. If East retains three diamonds and three clubs, South makes the hand by playing ace-king and a third club. He ruffs this, and dummy's fourth club is now good.

If East holds four clubs and two diamonds, South plays dummy's ace and the king of diamonds. His last diamond is now good and he can use his last trump to get back to his hand to make it.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♠	Pass	1♠
Pass	3♦	Pass	3♦
Pass	3♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 6 ♦ AKQ 6 5 4 ♣ KQJ 10 7 4
What do you do?

A—Freak hands are always hard to bid. We would try four no-trump with intention of bidding six diamonds if partner shows either one of two aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The Stone of Scone was brought from Scotland by Edward I and placed in the British coronation chair, which he made to hold it. This chair still holds the stone in Westminster Abbey.

Ann Landers

No Magic For 2nd Marriage Attempt

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me something about second marriages. Do they always turn out better than the first?

In the past few years at least a dozen couples of our acquaintance have been divorced and married again. My dear husband is forever pointing out that the Second-Time-Arounders seem to be blissfully content. He frequently mentions how enthralled Ronald Reagan is with his Nancy, how delighted Henry Ford is with his Christine and how happy Governor Rockefeller is with Happy.

My husband is nearly 50. Is he trying to tell me something? Do second marriages really work out better than the first try? — STILL NUMBER ONE

Dear One: Some do. Some don't. Statistics show that a great many couples who don't stick with the first mate don't stick with the second one, either. If the unhappily-married would work half as hard at pleasing the original spouse as they do at attracting a second one they might have a very good marriage indeed.

Dear Ann Landers: Five months ago my 18-year-old daughter made the foolish mistake of running off and marrying a service man who was stationed near here.

Today I received a letter that made me sick. Her husband is out of the service and they moved to Akron to live with his mother. She is a widow who lives in a two-bedroom home with 17 cats. The woman has one bedroom and the cats have the other. My daughter and her husband sleep on the living room sofa which opens up into a bed. They have no closet for their clothes, no drawer space and already the woman has told my daughter she cannot walk into the kitchen except to eat (there is no dining room) because the kitchen is HER'S.

My daughter says they have no privacy and she feels like a prisoner. When she complained to her husband he said, "This is my home. If you don't like it you can leave."

The girl has asked for my advice. What shall I tell her? — SICK

Dear Sick: The girl is asking for your advice a little late. Now the problem must be settled by her and her husband. I hope you haven't rented her room because it sounds to me as if you are going to get your daughter back.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine invited our family to her home to dinner. At the last moment her stove went on the bum and she called to say we would have to eat out. She and her husband and their three children met our tribe at a neighborhood restaurant.

When the food arrived my friend tapped her glass with the spoon and announced, "Please bow your heads for grace." I thought it was a nice gesture but my husband was visibly upset. On the way home he told me he thought grace in a public place was improper if not sacrilegious. I might add he was brought up in a family where grace was never said, they just dove in — like hogs. Comment, please. — WILMA

Dear Wilma: If grace is a part of the family custom, I see nothing improper or sacrilegious about saying it in public. If praying was the worst thing people did in public this would be a beautiful world.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Copyright 1968, Publishers-Hall Syndicate

U.P. National Guard, Troopers Mobilized

National Guardsmen and State Police from throughout the Upper Peninsula—including units and troopers from Gladstone and Manistique—were moved into Lower Michigan today as Gov. George Romney mobilized some 9,000 guardsmen and the entire State Police force in the wake of violence triggered by the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

State Police officers from Upper Peninsula posts were sent into the Detroit area and all levels for officers were cancelled.

National Guardsmen were ordered to report to Camp Grayling to await further orders.

The Associated Press reported today that 3,000 of the 9,000 National Guardsmen mobilized had been moved into Detroit, where Mayor Jerome Cavanagh Friday declared a "state of emergency" and set an 8 p.m. curfew on the entire city.

Detroit quiet

Detroit was reported "quiet" today, although there were incidents of looting and violence reported Friday.

Co. C of the 107th Engineer Battalion, Gladstone, under the command of Stephen Fraddo of Escanaba, moved out about 11 p.m. Friday. Between 120

Escanaba Clergy Schedule Dr. King Memorial Service

A memorial service for the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will be observed Sunday at 4 p. m. in the sanctuary of the Central Methodist Church, Escanaba.

The service, sponsored by the executive committee of the Delta County Clergy Association is being observed by the people of the Delta County Area who identify themselves with the truths as found in the ministry of Dr. King.

The Rev. Philip Lyon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Escanaba, will bring the memorial meditation. He will be joined by other members of the community clergy in this united witness to the testimony of Christian Faith as lived by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

People of the Delta County area are invited to be a worshipping part of this memorial service.

and 130 men of the company's 136-man strength were involved.

Among the men moved out was Mike Utt, new Daily Press Sports Editor, who just a few days ago completed transfer of his military obligations from North Dakota to the Gladstone unit.

Manistique's National Guard unit, Co. D, rolled with 65 men between 1:30 and 2 a.m. today after being alerted early Friday afternoon. The order to mobilize came about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Lt. Howard Handorf, commanding officer of the Manistique unit, said Friday afternoon that Manistique guardsmen were to be joined by the Kingsford unit. About 55 men from Kingsford left Manistique this morning.

Three Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

One passenger and the drivers of two cars were injured in traffic mishaps in Escanaba Friday night and early today, it is reported by city police.

Robert H. Turner, 47, of 1500 S. 15th St., was hurt when the car he was driving struck a parked auto owned by Joseph Chaison, 510 S. 14th St. The Chaison car was pushed over the curb and knocked down a tree.

The accident occurred in the 500 block, S. 14th St., at 2:40 a. m. today. Police said Turner told them he was tuning his car radio when he drove into the parked auto.

Two other persons were injured in a traffic accident on Stephenson Ave. at the Chicago & North Western Railway crossing at 7:54 p. m. Friday, city police reported.

Roy Sebeck, 43, of 2103 5th Ave. N., received a cut on his forehead. He was a passenger in a car driven by Robert J. Brazeau of the same address. Brazeau was ticketed for failing to stop in the assured clear distance and for leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

Police said the Brazeau car struck a car driven by Allen C. Hendrickson, 41, of 1318 Sheridan Road, who had stopped for a traffic signal. Hendrickson complained of a back injury, was taken to St. Francis Hospital for examination and was then released.

Officials Extend Hunt For Slayer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A neat, clean man with a long, sharp nose—the type of man who seems out of place in a flophouse—was the object of a widening search today as the assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Both U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and Frank Holloman, city police director, said they were optimistic of a break soon. But no arrests were announced and police declined to reveal details of their investigation.

King, the chief exponent of nonviolence in the civil rights struggle, was slain by a single bullet Thursday night as he leaned over the second-floor balcony of a motel, talking with aides on the ground.

March On Monday

He had come back to Memphis to lead a mass march in support of striking garbage workers, and he was killed just one week after another march he led flared into brief window breaking and looting in the downtown area.

As his body was borne back to Atlanta Friday by his widow in a chartered plane, union leaders and civil rights workers throughout the country continued planning for the Monday march.

Spokesmen said they anticipated that as many as 40,000 persons from 11 states would take part, following guidelines laid down by a federal judge.

King had termed the strike by the Memphis garbage men, 98 per cent of them Negroes, as the second phase in the fight by Negroes for equal rights. He said his Montgomery bus boycott in 1955 started the first phase, the fight for desegregation, and that the garbage collectors were now engaged in the battle for economic equality.

Killer Described

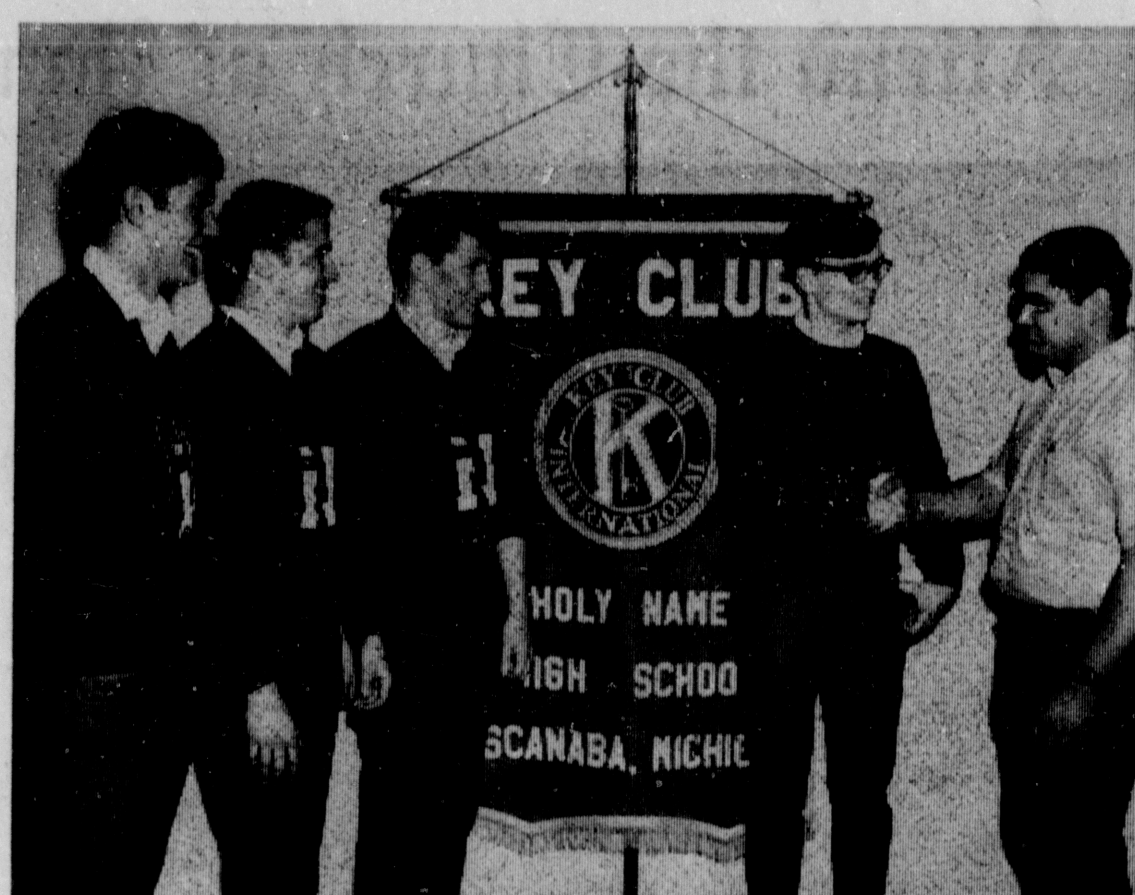

The bullet that killed King came from a communal bathroom in a flophouse behind the motel. Police were looking for the man who had checked into the place, paying for his $8.50 a week room with a crisp $20 bill.

Bessie Brewer, manager of the rooming house, told police the man gave his name as John Willard. "He was a clean, neat man," about six feet tall, she said.

Charlie Q. Stephens, who had the room between that taken by Willard and the bathroom, described the man as "clean shaven" and that he had a "long, sharp nose. He had normal eyes and a square chin, thick hair at the front and receded on each side."

Others said they saw the man walk away after the shot was fired.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Hayes Returned To Wisconsin

Charles E. Hayes, 28, an escapee from a California mental institution who was being held in Delta County on armed robbery charges, waived extradition Friday before Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Circuit Court and was returned to Price County, Wis., to face an attempted murder charge.

Price County Sheriff's officers took custody of Hayes Friday afternoon.

Hayes was arrested by State Police near Rapid River shortly after a Green Bay man was beaten and robbed in an Escanaba motel room.

He had been lodged in the Delta County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond awaiting preliminary hearing in Municipal Court.

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas Chapekis said that Delta County had received warrants charging Hayes with attempted murder and also armed robbery from Price County in the robbery of a housewife in her farm home.

The woman was knifed by her assailant with a butcher knife taken from his kitchen. In cases where a person is wanted by two or more states, prosecution normally is sought first on the most serious charge. Delta County warrants against Hayes are still in effect.

Reserves Call Marking Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is moving at an unexpectedly slow pace in carrying out the call-up of Reservists and National Guardsmen for the Vietnam war, announced last Sunday by President Johnson.

Army staff officers had expected the necessary administrative machinery would be starting up by Thursday but the go-ahead didn't come.

The explanation given by Pentagon authorities was that Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has been marking time because of the press of other business.

Preparations for the President's trip to Honolulu to talk about the possible negotiations with North Vietnam were given top priority by Clifford, they said, until it was announced Friday the Honolulu conference was being canceled.

The meeting is to be held later. Meanwhile, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, was scheduled to fly into Washington today to confer with Johnson.

The unexpected announcement by the North Vietnamese that they are willing to meet with U.S. representatives has prompted speculation that the call-up may be delayed even more, or perhaps canceled.

The Handi-Helpers 4-H Club met recently and evaluated their projects following the judging at Stephenson. Peggy Wiessert is food chairman for the planned April 20 party and each member may invite a guest.

Schanno Trial Begins Monday

Ann Marie Schanno, 33, Rte. 2, Bark River, charged with first degree murder in the shooting death of her husband, goes on trial Monday in Circuit Court.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson will preside at the trial beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Schanno, mother of four children, has been held in the Delta County jail without bond. She is represented by attorney Clair Hoehn of Gladstone.

At her arraignment last Monday Hoehn entered a plea of not guilty for her.

Richard A. Schanno, also 33, was shot once in the back in a bedroom of the family home on County Rd. 414. The alleged weapon was a .357 magnum revolver which the victim had used in his job as a Gladstone police officer.

Mrs. Schanno was bound over to Circuit Court for trial after a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge James Fitzharris of Escanaba.

Indications at the preliminary hearing were that the defense will claim that the shooting was an accident.

Land Exchanges Up For Action

Two proposed exchanges of land between the U.S. Forest Service and the Michigan Conservation Department involving parcels in several Upper Peninsula counties are scheduled to be acted on by the Michigan Conservation Commission at its monthly meeting Thursday and Friday in Lansing.

In the first, the U.S. offers to exchange 1,200 acres in the Bay de Noc State Forest in Delta County and the Escanaba River State Forest in Alger County for 1,548 acres of state-owned land in the Hiawatha National Forest in Chippewa, Delta and Schoolcraft counties.

Stream frontage of 900 feet on Rapid River and 3,500 feet on Boudreau Creek in Delta County is included in the land the federal government is offering. The desired state parcels would permit excellent blocking in of federal ownership and are well-suited for timber production and other national forest management, the conservation department said.

In the second proposal, the federal government would trade 495 widely scattered acres for 753 acres of state-owned land in the Hiawatha National Forest in Schoolcraft County. The federal lands include acreages in the Manistique River State Forest in Delta County, the Sturgeon River State Forest in Dickinson County, a public water access sites in Keweenaw and Marquette counties Michigan State Forest in Marquette County, Manistique State Forest in Schoolcraft County and the grand Sable State Forest, Schoolcraft County.

The proposal was approved by the conservation commission in January 1958, but the exchange was never completed because of a technicality. It is being resubmitted to the commission now with the recommendation that it be approved in revised form.

The Chicago & North Western Railway and the City of Escanaba have applied to the commission for a certificate for location of the lakeward boundary of Lake Michigan just south of the mouth of the Escanaba River where the company and city have plans to improve all of the adjacent upland in connection with development of a new iron ore dock.

The commission also is being asked to order water control restrictions on Camp 7 Lake in Delta County and Colwell Lake in Schoolcraft County. If approved, motorboat operation on those lakes would be prohibited from 6:30 p.m. to 10 a.m. and motorboat operators would not be allowed to operate their craft at high speed or to tow water skis, water sleds, surfboards or similar contrivances.

Council Will Elect Mayor Monday Night

The Escanaba City Council in organization meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the City Hall will elect a mayor or succeeding Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe.

If the Council follows custom, it will pick Cecil B. Chase, who in winning reelection polled the highest vote of any candidate.

Council members for the next two years besides Vanlerberghe and Chase are H. George Nelson and Edward J. Cox, and a new member, Robert Bink, 27, youngest man ever to serve as a member of the Escanaba Council.

Bink will be sworn in and be seated on the Council in a brief ceremony opening the organization session.

The naming of a mayor problem and the appointment of three citizens to the Delta County Board of Supervisors are also on the agenda.

Civil Rights Bill Gains Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill has gained key Republican support but supporters fear a backlash from mounting Negro violence may put the bill in real jeopardy.

The latest count shows the Senate-passed measure, with its strong open-housing provision, about eight votes short of House approval.

After a night of burning, looting and scattered killings in several cities following the killing of the Rev. Martin Luther King, backers were concerned some 50 uncommitted House members might vote against the measure Wednesday.

The count now shows about 210 firm House votes for the bill with 218 needed for passage if every member votes.

The King assassination also was cited by 20 House Republicans who split with GOP leadership and urged approval of the Senate bill.

Swift passage, they said in a joint statement, would be "the most constructive way by which (we) could pay our individual respects to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr."

The 20 members, led by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said, however, they reached their decision before King's death.

Their action came after influential Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, split with GOP leadership and called for prompt passage of the Senate bill.

Republican leaders have urged a House-Senate conference but supporters say that would produce a weakened bill—and possibly subject it to another Senate filibuster.

President Johnson, calling on the nation "to deny violence its victory," has scheduled an address to a joint session of Congress for 9 p.m. EST Monday.

Congressional leaders agree the President is likely to call for House approval of the Senate bill, and ask for programs aimed at easing city tensions.

Menominee Man Arrested, Held On Check Charge

Frederick F. Porath, 34, of Menominee, was lodged in the Delta County jail today on charges of uttering and publishing insufficient funds checks.

Sheriff's officers said Porath would be arraigned Monday. He was arrested in Menominee on warrants from Delta County.

Officers alleged that Porath issued a number of insufficient funds checks in the area, including one of $121.35 to Bero Implement Co., Gladstone, and another of $202.60 to Glenn Caswell of Escanaba.

Wizard Of Oz Performance Here April 27

Sponsored by the Escanaba Area PTA Council, a musical adventure into the Land of Oz, awaits the youngsters when the world-famous Nicolo Marionettes appear on Saturday, April 27 at the Escanaba Area Junior High School.

Technically, this is one of Nicolo's most ambitious efforts in many years of producing for Children's Theatre. The marionettes, specially articulated to provide a truly human flexibility and stylized to fit the fantastic elements in the story of the Wizard of Oz, give a sparkling performance.

The heroine, Dorothy, and her dog Toto in their travels through the Land of Oz, meet a Lion who can roll his eyes, a Strawman who takes off his head along with his hat, and the Wizard who has a scientific control panel capable of producing thunder, lightning or jelly beans, at the twist of a dial, and many others.

The audience will enjoy the sight of a huge mask floating on a bed of green flame, and a full-scale, thunderous tornado in turbulent action, and many stage effects never before seen on the marionette stage.

Admission is children, 50c, adults, 75c and performances will be at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. at Escanaba Area Junior High School.

Franklin PTA Meets Monday

A pot luck supper will highlight the Franklin PTA meeting to be held April 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room. Those attending are requested to bring their own table service and food delegated to their child's room. Election of officers will be held.

Home League

The Salvation Army Home League will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday for an educational program. Mrs. Margaret Provo is hostess.

VFW Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the VFW Hall. Election of officers will take place during the business session. A social with the Post will follow the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. VAUGHAN, 611 Oak, Manistiquette announce the engagement of their foster daughter, Betty Perry, to Richard A. Nelson. The bride-elect is a 1966 graduate of Northern Michigan University and is an art instructor in Trenton, Mich. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Nelson of Wakefield and the grandson of the late Rev. Nelson of the Lutheran Church in Manistiquette. He received his degree in Business Administration from Northern Michigan University in 1966 and is also teaching in the greater Detroit area. A December wedding is planned.

Elizabeth Lindberg, Charles St. Peter Wed

Miss Elizabeth Ann Lindberg of Twin Falls, Mich., became the bride of Charles Robert St. Peter of Escanaba during a ceremony performed March 9 at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Kingsford.

The Rev. Carl Brand officiated at the nuptials at 7 p.m. The church altars were adorned with arrangements of white gladioli and pink carnations. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lindberg of Twin Falls and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald St. Peter of Escanaba.

The bride wore a Satin Brocade styled gown of satin and metallic brocade fashioned with a shoulder train. Her headpiece of white roses trimmed with seed pearls held a shoulder

Mrs. Charles R. St. Peter length veil and she carried pink and white long stemmed roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Marsha Kluskens of Niagara and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Bichler of Escanaba and Mrs. James Lindberg of Kingsford.

They were attired in sapphire blue velvet Empire gowns with matching headpieces and carried long stemmed pink roses. Bestman for his brother was James St. Peter of Escanaba and groomsmen were Robert Ashland, Escanaba, and LeRoy Seward of Gwinn.

Seating the wedding guests were James Lindberg, David Lindberg, Jerry Magnuson and Robert Bichler.

Mother's Attire

The mother of the bride wore a charcoal and red ensemble with black patent accessories and was presented a corsage of red and white roses.

Mrs. St. Peter selected a navy blue suit with red accessories and pinned a red and white corsage.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors.

The newlyweds will make their home at Chocoyal Shores in Harvey, Mich. The bride is a graduate of Kingsford High School and attended the Bay de Noc College School of Practical Nursing. She is now employed at St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette.

Mr. St. Peter is an Escanaba Area High School graduate and will graduate from Northern Michigan University in June.

Births

REED — Mr. and Mrs. Denny Reed of Harvey, Ill. are the parents of a daughter, their first child, weighing 6 pounds and 8 ounces at birth. The mother is the former Linda Couillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Couillard Jr. of 217 Stephenson Ave. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Couillard Sr. of Wells.

Teen-Agers Like Barbecued Hot Dogs Any Time

"Why don't we have something I like?" Any mother is familiar with this comment from a teenager who can eat the same thing for weeks at a time with little variation.

"Something I like" can fall into a category characterized by hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza and milk shakes. If mother gives in to this request, she can serve barbecued frankfurters built into a balanced meal, says Reba Staggs, meat authority with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Balance the menu with French fried potatoes, coleslaw or green salad and a milk shake. Hot dogs may be served with buns.

Wieners are a convenience food. If this barbecue sauce is prepared in advance, it needs only to be heated with the franks for ten minutes.

Barbecued Frankfurters
2 pounds frankfurters, cut diagonally in 1-inch pieces
¾ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup catsup
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon cayenne pepper, if desired

Combine all ingredients except frankfurters. Simmer 20 minutes. Add frankfurters and cook slowly 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. 8 servings.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT POLLARD of 610 S. 9th St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon, to Ron Foresman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Foresman of Stronghurst, Ill. The bride-elect is a graduate of Grand Rapids High School, Grand Rapids, Minn. and is presently employed at GMAC in Milwaukee. Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Iowa where he received his B. S. degree and will graduate in August from the School of Mortuary Science in Milwaukee. A June 1 wedding is planned.

Peggy Fleming Turns Pro, Visits President

NEW YORK (AP) — What does a president talk about when he meets a queen?

"Oh, not politics, Vietnam or anything like that," pretty Peggy Fleming said today, gushing over the invitation from President Johnson to make her second visit to the White House.

"He is a wonderful man—I adore him. When he received me last week in his office, the President wanted to talk about the Olympics, the countries I had visited and the people I had seen."

Gold Medal

"He pinned a flower on me. He gave me a bracelet and a pin and he joked about my helping the gold drain by bringing back a gold medal."

The President has invited the 19-year-old world figure skating queen to dinner at the White House next Wednesday night, her second command appearance in less than two weeks.

Perhaps Mr. Johnson wants to talk to Peggy about balancing the national budget.

The demure, 108-pound ice ballerina from Colorado Springs, Colo., signed a long-term contract Wednesday that should make her one of the most highly paid personalities in sports.

The agreement—believed to be for five years with a base guarantee of $500,000—is with Bob Banner Associates, a television producer, and the National Broadcasting Company.

TV Debut

Banner, who gave impetus to the television careers of comedienne Carol Burnett and singer John Davidson, among others, plans a debut for Miss Fleming in a television spectacular over NBC next fall.

From there, he hopes to send her into dramatic roles, use her also in musicals and movies while permitting her to make periodic appearances in profes-

Flat Rock Altar Society Meeting Held

The Holy Family Altar Society of the Holy Family Church of Flat Rock held their April meeting following the Lenten services Wednesday evening with Mrs. Duane Marenger, president, presiding.

A note was received from Mrs. John Benz who has resigned as president. Mrs. Duane Marenger will now replace her.

The MDCCW Convention will be held at the Sault, April 28-29 and the Society will send three delegates, Mrs. Art Tourangeau Jr., Mrs. Hermen Bittner and Mrs. Harry Lancour. Alternate is Mrs. Don Roberts.

The Danforth and Flat Rock area ladies will hold a bake sale in April with Mrs. Donald Roberts and Mrs. Wallace Irving in charge.

Lunch was served by the church area ladies, Mrs. Harry Lancour chairman. Prizes were awarded to: Mrs. Robert Makosky, Mrs. Gerald Miron, Mrs. Don Seymour, Mrs. Ray LaMarch and Mrs. Art Tourangeau Jr.

Farewell Party

GARDEN—Eighteen friends and relatives of Albertine Goo-bout of Garden held a farewell party in her honor at the Ozzie Hazen home on Friday evening.

She is leaving Garden after 48 years of service as a housekeeper for Antone and Henry Farley. She is moving to Two Rivers, Minn., where she will reside with her sister.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Georgiana Beaudre and Edna Lester. Lunch was served and Miss Goo-bout was presented with gifts.

sional ice shows. Three of the major ones already have made extravagant offers.

"Her potential is unlimited—she can become another Sonja Henie," Banner said. "She has a delightful personality, a Grecian-type beauty and she projects very well."

"It's all happened so fast", she said. "I've seen Sonja Henie in the late movies. I admire her very much."

Miss Henie, three-time Olympic champion, reportedly made millions with her ice shows and movies in the 1930s. Miss Fleming, three times world champion, said she planned to start taking dramatic lessons in Los Angeles next month.

Betty Donalds

Betty Donalds Receives State Art Award

Betty Donalds, a senior at Escanaba Area High School, has been awarded third place in a state-wide art competition sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Her entry, a watercolor and ink painting suggesting a misty landscape in reddish colors at dawn, was completed as a project for an art class.

From the state competition, one painting will be selected to compete in the national art contest. These competitions are open only to high school seniors.

Betty is presently enrolled in Art III at the high school, having previously completed two years of art classes. Her instructor is John Gustafson.

Betty's winning painting will be on display during the state convention of Women's Clubs in Traverse City, April 23-25. Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Donalds of 729 S. 16th St.

Jet Fueling Is Big Chore

60 Million Gallons Pumped Into Planes

BY ANTHONY HAYNES
Of Panax Newspapers

K. I. SAWYER — Next time you demolish a 10-dollar bill on a tankful of (highly taxed) gasoline, take a bit of solace in the fact that it took about a million 10-dollar bills to keep K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base planes off the ground last year.

The money bought 60 million gallons of fuel for the planes that are "all fuel tanks," according to Lt. Charles Sheffield, base fuels division officer.

It's Sheffield's job to keep the base's aircraft ready and fueled to fly.

And with 60 million gallons of highly volatile fuel to worry about, it's a job that gets a bit rough on the nerves.

Sheffield must be certain that the huge, eight-engined B-52 bombers at the base not only have enough fuel to carry them wherever a nuclear bomb or two might be needed, but that the fuel is as "dry" and clean as is humanly possible.

Then he's got to worry about fuel for the "Hound Dog" missiles that ride beneath each wing of her "mother" '52, liquid oxygen and nitrogen and anhydrous ammonia for cooling radar units and missiles, respectively.

And then he has to assure that his "flying tank cars" — the C-135s — are ready to fly anywhere for rendezvous with bombers in mid-air refueling missions.

Lesser Worries

The big C-135s add another item to the fuel division's inventory — di-mineralized water. It is used to cool the tankers' jet engines, primarily on takeoffs during hot weather, in accord with the theory that the cooler its particular jet engine is the more thrust it develops.

Somewhat lesser problems for the fuel division are the F-101 "Voodoo" fighters, transient aircraft and propeller driven planes at the base, which don't consume anywhere near the amounts of fuel the long range bombers do, but which nevertheless have "very healthy appetites."

To help him keep the Air Force airborne, Sheffield is authorized 81 men. At present he's got 63, including his fuel

47-Mile Line Feeds Airbase

The Wade Corp. terminal between Escanaba and Gladstone which supplies K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base with jet fuel for its aircraft is capable of pushing 29,400 gallons of fuel per hour to the base through the six-inch pipeline to the base.

The 47-mile pipeline, completed in 1962 and owned by National Pipeline Co., is supplemented by truck and railroad car loading facilities which could keep K. I. Sawyer operational in the event the pipeline was unusable.

Total fuel storage capacity of the Wade Corp. terminal is 26 million gallons, said Monroe Bouchet, terminal superintendent. An average of about 4.5 million gallons is moved to the air base each month.

superintendent, Senior M/Sgt. Eugene Bozeman, who can "take charge" whenever necessary.

PRIDE Awards

"They're all good men, the lieutenant states emphatically, and the fuel division's record in the base's incentive program, PRIDE, seems to testify to the officer's own pride in his personnel.

Five out of the past six months, a fuel division airman has won the right to represent his squadron in the monthly base-wide PRIDE competition, and at least once a fuel specialist has captured the monthly base award.

Why this record? Well, probably good training and high morale. And how do you keep a man happy when he's often got to stand for hours in the cold U.P. night pumping jet fuel into a "big bird"?

Free 'Hops' To Spain

You "stay off his back" and watch out for his interests and encourage incentive with three-day passes and promotions.

Most of the new airmen in the section arrive at the base with six weeks of training in fuel handling. This is immediately supplemented by a daily two-hour session in the division's own classroom for six to eight months.

Sheffield thinks this training is the best on the base and he arranges that any airman who "max's" the Air Force-wide test at the end of the course gets a free "hop" to Spain on an Air Force tanker and two weeks of European leave.

How It's Shipped

So then you've got 63 good men — where do you get the fuel they handle and what do you do with it once it's at the base?

Good questions.

Each year contracts for the jet fuel are awarded, and the winning oil company goes through its own complex processes to produce the fuel. It then packs it on Great Lakes tankers and floats it into Little Bay de Noc between Escanaba and Gladstone. There, under the close supervision of Monroe Bouchet, terminal manager, and his staff, the fuel is

THE BIG B-52 BOMBERS, which are "almost all fuel tank" according to the base fuels officer, are refueled either by tankers in the air, above, or on the ground, below. Airman pumped into eight 80,000-barrel floating roof tanks to await shipment at "hot line" notice to Sawyer AFB via a 47-mile long six-inch pipeline, and in lesser quantity, via truck and rail.

Safety Feature

At Sawyer AFB, the fuel division stores the fuel in five-above ground tanks capable of holding more than 3,000,000 gallons or in underground hydrant storage that holds a million gallons of the jet fuel — known officially as JP-4.

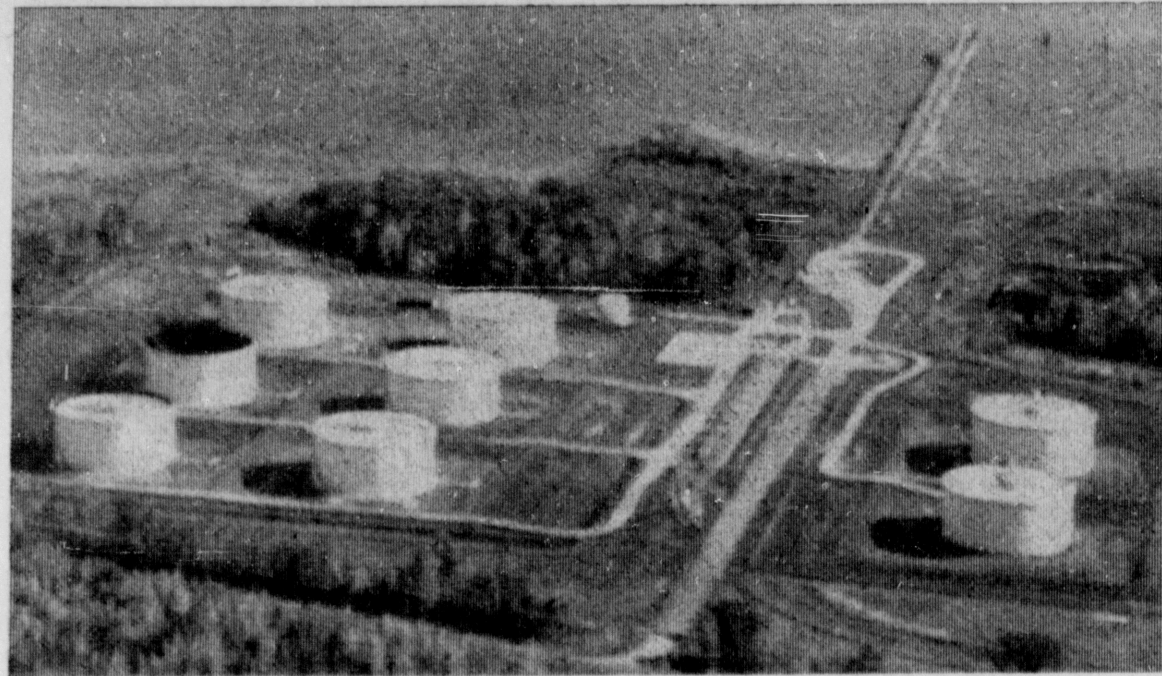

The above ground tanks at the base also have floating roofs, a safety feature whereby the 70-ton-plus roofs actually float on the fuel eliminating vapor space and therefore explosions.

At both facilities fire and explosions are a foremost thought and both operations boast fireless records. The slightest static electric spark, generated, say, from someone's clothing, can set off an explosion of the highly combustible fuel and, as far as officials know, exactly that caused the half million dollar explosion and subsequent fire at Kinchloe AFB's fuel division last month.

Around The Clock Guard

At the Bay de Noc terminal operated by the Wade Corp., a subsidiary of a California firm, guards are posted around the clock, checking in at five stations around the cyclone fenced operation.

But shipping and storing and guarding all this fuel is simply one aspect of the complex system that brings crude oils from all over the world, to huge refineries, to Little Bay de Noc, to an airbase outside of Gwinn and into B-52 bombers and C-135 tankers and F-101 "Voodoo's" and in these plane's fuel

FROM THE WADE CORP. terminal tanks at Bay View on Little Bay de Noc between Escanaba and Gladstone, 60 million gallons of JP-4 fuel move annually to K. I. Sawyer AFB via pipeline, tank truck and railroad car to keep Sawyer's thirsty jets flying.

William Potochnich holds a static electricity grounding wire as he fuels this B-52. The slightest electric spark could mean an explosion.

License Break Given Military

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney signed five bills into law Friday, including one to permit Michigan's prison industries to operate on a steady production schedule.

The new law permits the prisons to manufacture products for inventory instead of waiting for orders to be received.

Other bills signed would: —Provide for an increase in license renewal fees for both real estate brokers and salesmen and provide for annual licensing instead of the present three-year system.

—Designate all members of the armed forces officially stationed in Michigan as residents to enable them to buy resident fishing and hunting licenses.

—Provide for a new system of licensing all hospitals in the state.

—Require that the Public School Employees Retirement Board include at least one member who is a retired public school employee and one other with experience in the insurance, actuarial or industrial investment fields.

tanks into the stratosphere around this planet.

Something to ponder — as we've already said — next time you demolish a 10-dollar bill for a tankful of gasoline for your big fuel-guzzling American motor car.

Deer-Car Clashes Top 7,000 In '67

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports there were 7,077 known deer-car accidents in 1967, a 14-per cent increase over the previous year. Three motorists died in such accidents.

Deer are attracted to highways, partly because they have discovered the highways are a source of salt, sprinkled on ice in winter months.

More than 3,000 of the accidents were near heavily populated areas, with heaviest tolls reported near Howell, Jackson and Battle Creek and in Barry County.

March Drought Equalled Mark

Dry weather and mild temperatures prevailed throughout much of March, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

At Escanaba the "all time high" temperature record for the 3rd was equalled, and new daily high temperature records were established on the 4th and 15th. The previous high record for the 4th and 15th was 48 degrees, and both of these were set in 1934.

Total precipitation for the month was less than that for any other March in the past 50 years, with the exception of 1937.

The average temperature for March was 31.1 degrees—nearly 5 degrees above normal.

There was but 0.52 inches of precipitation in the month, down 1.14 inches from normal.

Grants To Aid Detroit Center

LANSING (AP) — The State Education Department reports two federal grants have been approved by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare for rehabilitation projects in Detroit's inner city area.

One three-year project involves $243,900 in federal funds and $27,100 in state funds.

The grant to the Education Department Vocational Rehabilitation Division will be for job placement services for some 1,200 inner city residents.

The program will be operated jointly with Goodwill Industries of Detroit. The grant also will enable addition of 14 staff members to work with the disadvantaged unemployed.

A second grant of $355,996 in federal funds and $118,332 in matching funds from the United Fund of Greater Detroit will go to the Detroit League for the Handicapped for an addition to their present rehabilitation facility.

Primary objective will be to expand job training programs for the disabled and disadvantaged.

Court Action Brings Protest

FLORENCE, Wis.—A traffic charge against Florence County Judge Allan Stranz was dismissed in court at Appleton, triggering a protest by Florence County sheriff Lloyd Cleveland.

Circuit Judge A. W. Parnell, Appleton, at a special term of Florence County court in Appleton, dismissed the charge upon motion of special assistant district attorney Robert Pettijean, Green Bay.

In a statement read to the court, Pettijean said he was moving for dismissal because he did not have sufficient proof to obtain a conviction either before a jury or in a trial by the court.

Judge Stranz had been scheduled to go on trial here next Tuesday before a jury, with Judge Parnell presiding. Judge Parnell had been named by the state court administrator to hear the case.

"My department was not represented or notified of the dismissal until after the action had been taken," Sheriff Cleveland said. "Pettijean was here to check on the background in the case but failed to get all the facts or a list of all witnesses from my records."

Walter Dalla Grana, Florence County district attorney told the news media he had no comment on the dismissal.

Pettijean was appointed to try the case by Dalla Grana on authority of the Florence County board. Dalla Grana, who must work closely with both Cleveland and Stranz, said it would be improper and unethical for him to handle the prosecution.

Judge Stranz was issued a ticket for unreasonable and imprudent speed on Sept. 8, 1967, after his station wagon rolled over on highway 139, about two miles north of Long Lake.

Federal Reserve Plans Building

MINNEAPOLIS — The Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis has signed a contract with the Knutson Co., as the first step in proposed construction of a new building to house the bank, announced Fed President Hugh D. Galusha Jr. The site is in the Gateway Center. Knutson is developer of Gateway Center under contract with the Minneapolis Housing Authority, and under the terms of that contract will be general contractor for the building.

"Before the final decision to build is made," Galusha said, "building design must be completed and a guaranteed maximum cost with Knutson must be set. The present timetable places that decision in late 1968 or early 1969, with construction not a possibility until the first quarter of 1969."

The building design concept is still in development stages on planning objectives stated by the architect, Gunnar Birkerts, of Gunnar Birkerts and Associates, Birmingham, Mich.

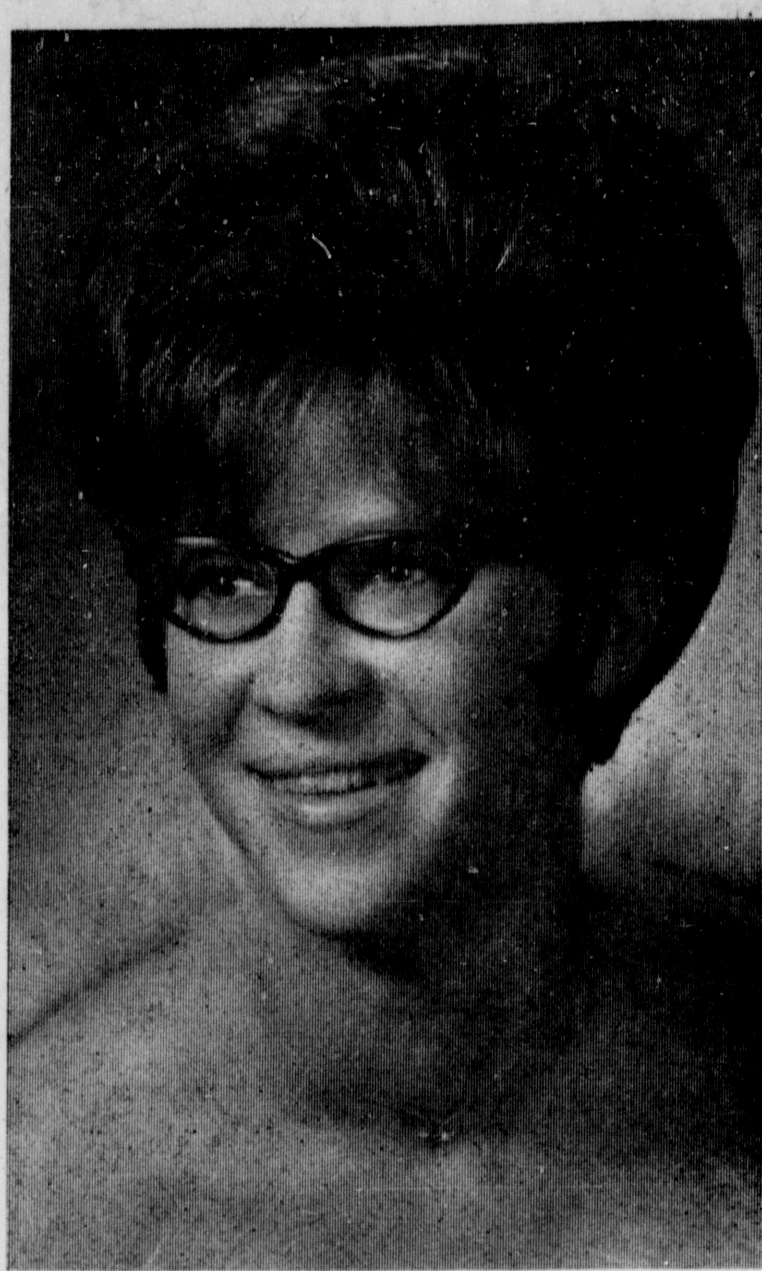

Bethlehem Builds Largest Furnace

NEW YORK (AP) — Koppers Co. Inc., of Pittsburgh said Friday it would build the Western Hemisphere's largest blast furnace for Bethlehem Steel Corp. at Burns Harbor, Ind.

The furnace will have an initial capacity of 4,000 tons of iron a day.

Industry sources said a furnace of that size would cost between $25 million and $30 million. The furnace is scheduled for completion in late 1969.

GLADSTONE

MR. AND MRS. RAY WAHOWIAK of Mt. Morris, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Jean, to Ray E. Grossbauer of Lapeer. The bride-elect was a junior at Gladstone High School when the family left Gladstone to make their home in Mount Morris in 1964. She is a graduate of Mount Morris High School and attended Flint Community Junior College. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grossbauer of Lapeer and is a graduate of Michigan School for the Deaf. He is employed as a printer by the Lapeer County Press. The couple will be married on the 22nd wedding anniversary of the bride-elect's parents, Sept. 7.

Choose Mayor Monday Night

The Gladstone City Commission will choose a mayor and mayor pro-tem when it meets in organization session Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall. The incumbent mayor is Commissioner Ray Norton.

Norton and Arne Anderson were re-elected to the Commission in last Monday's election. The Commission will also appoint two members to the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

Other business before the Commission will include the opening of electric transformer bids; resolution authorizing fire protection to Brampton Township; and a petition of residents near the east trailer court.

Authorization for attendance at a water treatment school to be held in Houghton May 6-8; advertising for bids for power plant coal; and authorization to obtain engineering services for the proposed fishing pier project are also to come before the Commission.

Welfare Club Meets Monday

Miss Paula Root and Miss Ruth Gison, VISTA workers at Nahma will present the program at the meeting of the Gladstone Child Welfare Club Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Justin Sweet, 1103 Michigan Ave.

Mrs. Robert Malnor and Mrs. Lawrence Martin are in charge of arrangements. They will be assisted by the Mesdames, Marie Caswell, Robert Hupy, Joseph Bergeon, Ed Larson, Fred LeClaire, Clifford Kinnie, G. E. Dehlin, M. J. Neveaux, Robert Schram, Philip Gagnon and Wilbur Montgomery.

Baseball Openers Postponed

Nation In Mourning For Slain Dr. King

Baseball's Presidential opener and a National Basketball Association playoff game are among the major sports events that have been rescheduled in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Grief and concern over the civil rights leader's death coupled with racial unrest in some areas, resulted Friday in a handful of significant postponements involving both professional and amateur sports.

The American League baseball opener at Washington between the Senators and Minnesota Twins was set back from Monday to Tuesday. Cincinnati's National League home opener against the Chicago Cubs, also scheduled for Monday, was postponed until Wednesday.

The Houston Astros said they would go ahead with their Monday night home opener against Pittsburgh in the Astrodome, but reacted to President Johnson's call for a national day of mourning for Dr. King Sunday by calling off a scheduled exhibition meeting with the Twins.

The Detroit Tigers-St. Louis Cardinals' exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday also was canceled.

The NBA reset Sunday's Eastern Division playoff game at Boston between the Celtics and the Philadelphia 76ers for next Wednesday night. The Sunday contest, second in the best-of-7 Eastern finals, was to have been nationally televised (ABC-TV).

No decision was announced on the status of the second game of the Western Division final series between San Francisco and Los Angeles, scheduled for Sunday night on the Lakers' floor.

The National Hockey League was to decide today whether Sunday's playoff game at New York between the Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks, set for national television (CBS-TV), would be played. Two American Basketball Association playoff contests scheduled for Sunday also were up in the air. A decision was to be announced today.

The Reds-Cubs baseball opener was postponed after Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann called for a Day of Commitment on the part of Cincinnati citizens Monday in memory of the slain Negro leader.

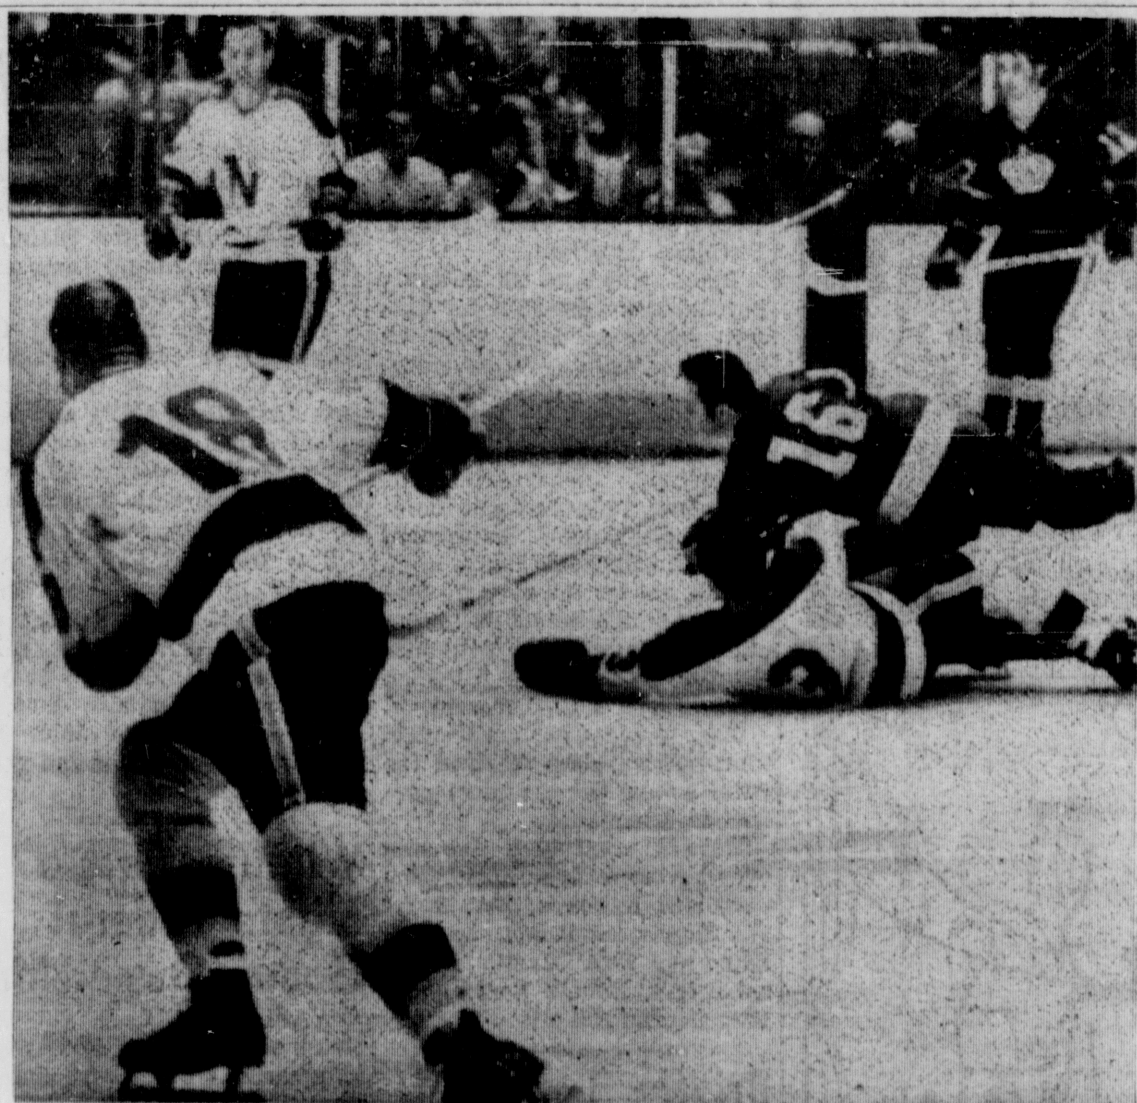

Game Changes

DETROIT (AP) — A spokesman for the Detroit Cougars of the North American Soccer League says the team's scheduled intersquad game in Toledo Saturday has been changed from Scott High School stadium to Pearson Field. The game is at 5 p.m.

Blues, Kings Hope Worm Stays Active

By The Associated Press
The worm is turning in the National Hockey League's West Division and Los Angeles and St. Louis hope to keep the little fellow on the move.

Both clubs swing back into action tonight as Stanley Cup playoff action resumes with Minnesota at Los Angeles and St. Louis at Philadelphia. Boston is at Montreal for the second game of their series in the only East Division action tonight.

Los Angeles managed just two victories in 10 regular season games against playoff foe Minnesota. But the Kings whipped the North Stars 2-1 Thursday in the opening game of the playoffs.

And St. Louis had beaten Philadelphia just once all year before blanking the Flyers 1-0 in Thursday's opening Cup game. Two veteran goalies who've been through the Stanley Cup mill plenty of times before, were the key men for the Kings and Blues.

Terry Sawchuk, LA's 38-year-old netminder, kicked out 31 shots as the Kings nipped Minnesota.

"He made the saves that kept us in the game," said Coach Red Kelly.

Glenn Hall, who's 36, had an easier time for St. Louis, facing just 14 Philadelphia shots as the Flyers offense continued to sputter.

"We showed about as much offense as my kid's team," grumbled Keith Allen, coach of the Flyers.

Hall said it wasn't as easy as it might seem to be.

"I know you think I could have sat in a rocking chair with only 14 shots to stop," he said. "It was easy physically, but not mentally. After all, all I had to do was miss one and it was all over."

That's how it was for Gerry Cheevers in Montreal. The Boston goalie staged a strong duel with Montreal's Gump Worsley until late in the third period when Claude Provost deflected a Ted Harris slap shot past him for the winning goal.

The Bruins-Canadiens game was a physical battle with Montreal's rugged John Ferguson battling Boston's Ted Green among other matchups and Referee John Ashley doing out 14 penalties including a misconduct to Montreal goalie Gump Worsley.

New York and Chicago were scheduled to resume their playoff series Sunday but there was a possibility that the game would be postponed because of the national day of mourning for Dr. Martin Luther King, the slain civil rights leader. A final decision on whether the game would be played was expected early today.

New York won the opener 3-1 behind a strong checking game and the tight goaltending of Ed Giacomin.

Celtics Get Jump On Philadelphia In NBA Playoffs

By The Associated Press

There's one thing the Boston Celtics want to accomplish this year more than anything. It's to dethrone the Philadelphia 76ers and regain the National Basketball Association championship. They got the jump on the 76ers by beating them 127-118 Friday night in the opening game of the best-of-7 series in the Eastern Division final playoffs. It was a big win for the Celtics since they did it on the 76ers' home court in Philadelphia.

Los Angeles, playing at home, routed San Francisco 133-105 in the first game of their best-of-7 series in the Western Division final playoffs.

New Orleans, also playing at home, defeated Dallas 104-99 in the opener of their best-of-7 series in the Western Division final playoff in the American Basketball Association. No other games were scheduled.

John Havlicek, Sam Jones and Bailey Howell combined for 86 points as the determined Celtics downed the 76ers. Havlicek got 35 points, Jones 27 and Howell 24.

Their efforts offset the combined 64 points by Wilt Chamberlain and Chet Walker for the 76ers. Chamberlain scored 33 and Walker 31.

A 20-foot jumper by Howell put Boston ahead for good in the second quarter at 48-46. A tough defense helped the Celtics stay on top.

Gail Goodrich sparked a Los Angeles spurt late in the first half that turned back the Warriors. The former UCLA All-American came off the bench with San Francisco ahead 43-42 and six minutes left in the first half.

Goodrich hit five field goals and added two fouls for 12 points to put the Lakers ahead 63-51 at intermission. Los Angeles opened a 24-point lead in the third quarter and coasted thereafter.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West paced the Lakers with 29 and 27 points, respectively, with Goodrich finishing with 17. Jeff Mullins was high for the Warriors with 29.

Granatelli Loses Turbine Battle

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Anthony "Andy" Granatelli lost his court battle Friday to have the U.S. Auto Club declare his controversial turbine-powered car eligible for this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Federal Judge William E. Stecker rejected a plea by Granatelli and Studebaker's STP division to have USAC restore its 1967 rules on turbine cars.

Stecker also refused to issue an order restoring USAC membership to STP and Granatelli, its president.

John Bennington is the 12th head coach in the 70-year history of basketball at Michigan State University.

Olympians Take Pride In Team

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Team pride takes first priority in making the U.S. Olympic basketball team.

Consider the AAU All-Stars against the Armed Forces Friday in the Olympic Trials Tournament. The game became one of flying elbows and shoving in the second half.

On occasion, the Navy's Mike Barrett, who scored 14 points, was knocked down after collisions with larger AAU players. "Let me in there," said one service player. "I'll take them out."

The game settled down with the AAU, which won 71-63, having too much depth and inside power.

To Choose Team

Immediately after tonight's AAU-NAIA title game, at 11 p.m., EST, a 45-man selection committee will meet to select Uncle Sam's 12-man team and six alternates to the Olympic Games at Mexico City. The committee will have seen 12 games in three days of play.

Dwight Durante of Catawba, N.C., just 5-foot-8, sparked Friday as he scored 20 points and led his NAIA team to a 73-69 victory over an inspired Junior College squad.

Durante hit nine of 16 field goal attempts and stole the ball with five seconds to go and his team leading by two points. Durante then sank two free throws to clinch the game.

"I don't think they'll take a man my size," the 160-pound junior said. "I hope we do well Saturday night."

In the other trials games, the NCAA Blues dropped the NCAA College Division 97-92 after trailing by 17 points and the NCAA Whites tared the NCAA Reds 95-82, mainly on 24 points by North Carolina's Charles Scott.

Hits 22 Points
Joe Allen of Bradley, with 22 points, and Dave Scholz of Illinois, with 21 points, led the Blues. They also talked of team play.

"We played poorly Thursday night (losing to Jucos) but we got together and we gained a lot of momentum," said Scholz, who hit on 10 of 12 field goal attempts Friday.

Allen, who controlled the close-in play with his 240 pounds and 6-6 frame, said, "You have to get a few problems digested. You have to learn the people you're playing with... knowing where one player is going to be when you throw it to him."

Edgar Lacey, the 6-6 AAU All-Star who quit national championship UCLA at mid-season said international rules made basketball rougher because of more body contact.

Lacey, who made three of the four shots he took and tied for team rebounding honors, said, "I definitely would like to play on the Olympic squad."

He also said he has had some feelers from professional teams.

Conigliaro Clouds Red Sox Chances

By The Associated Press
The defending champion Boston Red Sox are heading North with a shadow cast over their American League pennant chances by the clouded baseball future of Tony Conigliaro.

The young slugger's vision in his left eye is deteriorating as a result of being hit in the face by a pitch last Aug. 18, and Boston General manager Dick O'Connell asked Friday that he be placed on the emergency disabled list for a minimum of 60 days.

"This comes as such a blow because we all were so optimistic," Carl Yazdzemski said as the Red Sox broke camp at Winter Haven, Fla. "We can only hope he will recover completely."

Manager Dick Williams said rookie Joe Lahoud would get a shot at filling Conigliaro's right field job.

In an abbreviated exhibition schedule Friday, Cincinnati defeated Oakland 7-6 in 11 innings. St. Louis edged Detroit 3-2 and Pittsburgh downed the New York Yankees in day games.

Minnesota nipped Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat California 4-2 and Cleveland edged San Francisco 5-4 in night games.

The Chicago White Sox-Chicago Cubs and the Baltimore at Atlanta games were canceled because of wet grounds.

Cincinnati fell behind Oakland 5-0 and then won on Jim Gosger's two-out home run in the bottom of the 10th.

Blanked by John "Blue Moon" Odum for seven innings, Cincinnati touched Paul Lindblad for two-run homers by Vada Pinson and Mack Jones in the eighth and added two more runs in the ninth on a pair of singles and Pete Rose's double.

Oakland then tied it in the bottom of the ninth on a hit, error and Ramon Webster's single.

Bob Tolan's one-out single following Phil Gagliano's triple and an intentional walk gave St. Louis its victory. Detroit, which scored in the first, had tied it in the seventh. St. Louis got its first two runs on one hit off Earl Wilson in the second.

Pittsburgh scored four runs on six hits, including Matty Alou's two-run double, and added two more on homers by Willie Stargell in the second and Bill Mazeroski in the third. All the runs came off Fred Talbot. Bill Robinson scored the Yankees' first run and homered for the second.

Cesar Tovar's two-run homer in the ninth off Jim Ray, who had not allowed a run in 11½ innings of spring pitching, won it for Minnesota. Houston had taken a 2-1 lead in the sixth on RBI singles by Rusty Staub and Doug Rader.

The Mets' Tom Seaver, Rookie-of-the-Year in the National League last season, warmed up for his opening day stint by blanking the Angels on one hit over the first five innings. The loss snapped a four-game California winning string.

Cleveland battered Juan Marichal, Seaver's mound opponent in next Tuesday's Mets-Giants season opener, for five runs in the fifth inning. Tommy Harper's double was the big blow as the Indians batted around in the fifth.

Bloomfield Hills Captures Relays

EAST LANSING (AP) — Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook captured Class B Spartan High School Relay honors Friday at Michigan State University.

It was the fifth annual meet, sponsored by the Lansing State Journal.

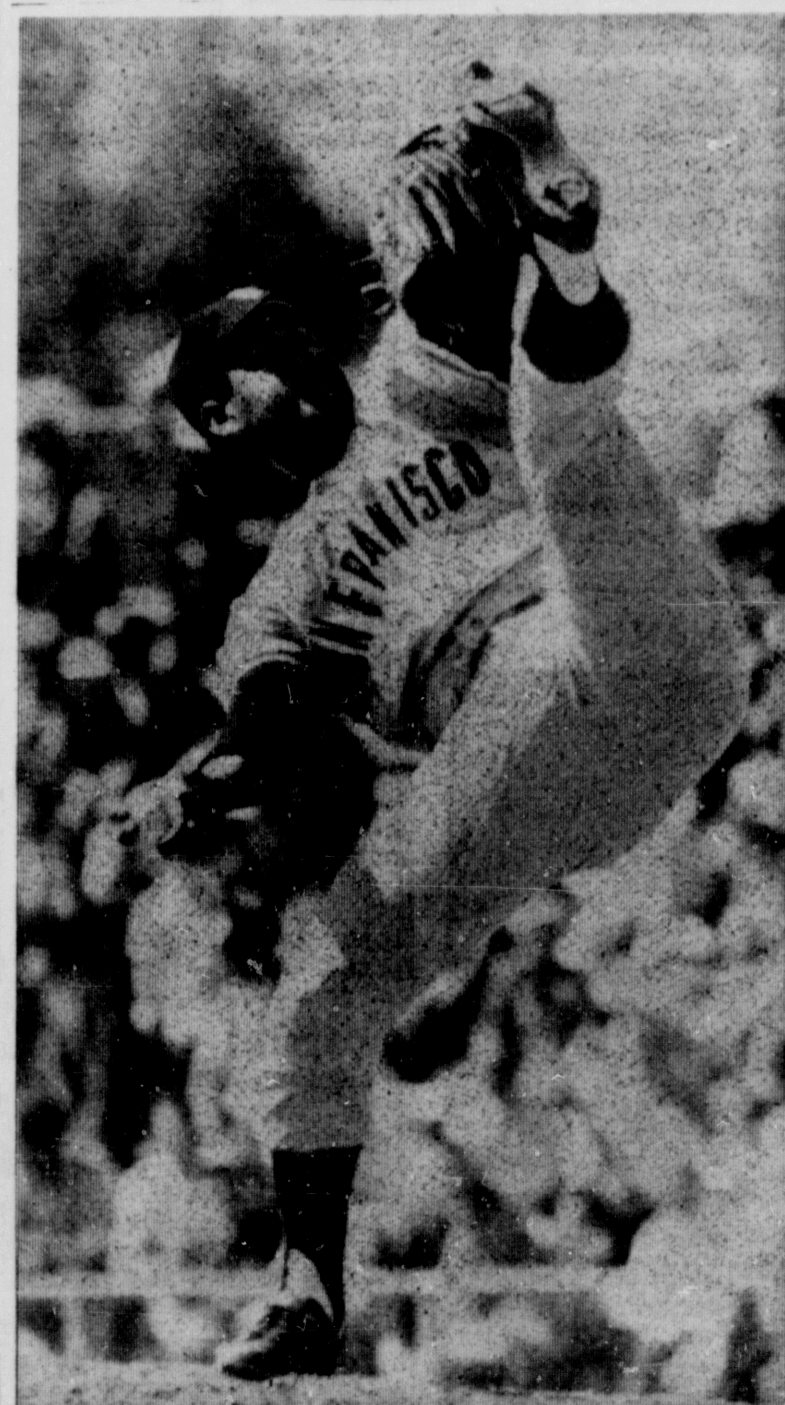

Cranbrook, with 18 points, led Kalamazoo Hackett, with 16; Detroit St. Anthony, with 15, and Bay City Glenn with 13½.

The victors captured the title by placing first in the two-mile relay and mile run, and taking second place in the spring medley relay and the mile relay.

Western Nine Nips Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan jumped off to an early 4-0 lead and held off Ohio State Friday, posting a 7-5 baseball victory.

Marcus Hari led the Broncos' attack with a single and double good for four RBI. Western, which meets the Bucks in a twinbill Saturday, has a 4-5-1 record. OSU is 5-7.

JUAN MARICHAL, San Francisco's high-kicking right hander, shows he is ready for the start of the regular baseball season as he pitched against Cleveland. Giants and Marichal won the game. (AP Wirephoto)

THE REV. RALPH ABERNATHY stretches his arm to the sky and says "Long Live The King," as he concludes a short memorial service for Dr. Martin Luther King in Memphis, Tenn., Friday. Rev. Abernathy Steps Into Role Of Fallen Friend

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Always in the shadow at the side of his leader now fallen, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy had to step Friday into the place of the man he presented to countless audiences as "the Moses of the 20th century."

As Moses had an Aaron, so Martin Luther King Jr., had a Ralph Abernathy to lean on from the very beginning of his human rights crusade.

Abernathy went to jail with King 17 times, the last in Birmingham, Ala., last year for an old contempt of court conviction.

"We always prayed together in jail," Abernathy recalled. After King's assassination, Abernathy as vice president at large assumed the duties of president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which he and King founded in 1957.

"I never had any desire to lead the movement," Abernathy, 42, said in an interview three years ago. He said King was the symbol and the leader. "I always wanted to stand with him and not ahead of him."

It was usually up to Abernathy to warm up an audience for King's oratory. "We needed a philosophy, a philosopher and a theory to undergird and sustain the movement," Abernathy once said. "We needed also a practical and down-to-earth message. Consequently in every mass meeting, both of us spoke. I never sought to duplicate Dr. King."

Abernathy's church was one of four in Montgomery that were hit by bombs in 1956. He was pastor of the Negro First Baptist church in Montgomery for 10 years after attending Alabama State College where he taught sociology. He moved to Atlanta in 1961 to become pastor of West Hunter Street Baptist, near the complex of predominantly Negro colleges. He has a wife and three children. He was born in Rural Linden, Ala.

A stolid disciple of nonviolence, Abernathy said after King was slain: "While he lived, he taught us we should not let violence turn us around."

Abernathy plans to continue King's work, including the poor people's campaign in Washington, D.C., after a period of adjustment.

Democrats Delay Fund Raising Fete

LANSING (AP)—Because of the state of emergency declared in Wayne County, Michigan Democrats have postponed indefinitely all Jefferson-Jackson Day activities set for Saturday in Detroit.

A dinner featuring Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, a luncheon and reception will be rescheduled at a date to be announced later, said Democratic State Chairman Sander Levin.

The annual Democratic fund-raising activities were postponed "in light of the possibility of a continuing curfew in Detroit and considering the general inappropriateness of holding a festive political gathering at this time," Levin said.

In North America, hay fever is caused chiefly by the pollen of ragweed, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.
